COL. STEWART ON WAY HOME TO TALK TO SENATE

Is Angry at Reports; Quits Mexico Trip.

(Copyright, 1928, By The New York Times.)
HAVANA, Jan. 26.—Col. Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, was very angry when told today that he was reported to have run away from the senate committee investigating the Sinclair-Pull oil lease scandal.

Col. Stewart explained that he had left the United States as a result of a gentlemen's agreement to return and testify when he was wanted. He said he always intended to answer the senate's questions and had frequently offered to do so.

Senate to Get Explanation.

"Will you explain what became of the Continental Trading company's profits?" he was asked.
"That is my business," he replied. Then he said he did not wish to be discourteous, but thought an explanation should be given first to the senate.

Col. Stewart Intended to Go from here to Mexico at the request of Ambassador Morrow, but, since the issue has arisen, he will start tomorrow for the United States, going first to Chicago and thence to Washington. He expects to be in Chicago Wednesday.

Attended Sinclair Trial.

"It was originally arranged that I should appear on Jan. 24," he said to-night. "I was ready at all times to testify. I frequently appeared before the grand jury at the request of Messrs. Pomeroy and Roberts and was also frequently in their offices. I attended the Sinclair trial three weeks waiting to be called. I understood from our counsel that the matter had gone over and so came here.

Wanted to Go to Mexico.

Col. Stewart was aroused at being accused of violating an agreement. He said he had wanted to go to Mexico, as he had had a long conference here with Ambassador Morrow regarding the Mexican oil situation and also had been busy on his company's entrance into the Venezuela field.

He said he had instructed the executives of his company to meet him in Mexico City Feb. 5, but has now given up this plan because of his return to the United States. All of his plans were known to the senate committee and any idea that he is a fugitive is ridiculous, Col. Stewart declared.

TO APPEAR NEXT WEEK.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 26.—(Special.)—Col. Robert W. Stewart of Chicago, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, will appear before the senate public lands committee next week when the probe into the Continental Trading company, Ltd., phase of the Teapot Dome oil scandal is resumed.

Definite announcement that Col. Stewart had abandoned a projected business trip to Mexico and was returning to Washington at once was made today by Senator Gerald P. W. J. Rogers, N. D., chairman of the committee, who received assurances to that effect from the oil man's personal counsel, L. L. Stephens.

Mr. Stephens insisted that Col. Stewart's absence had been generally misinterpreted and that stories that he was seeking to avoid testifying were "absolutely untrue."

Charges Stolen Evidence.

Federal agents and city police combined today in an investigation of combined today in an investigation of the alleged mysterious attack last night on Mrs. Jeanette Lantz, defense witness in the Sinclair-Burns contempt proceedings, and the alleged theft of a "valuable" document from her hotel room.

Announcement of the attack was made in Justice Frederick Siddons' court this morning by Charles A. Douglas, chief of Washington, D. C., Burns, and another sensation—Burr, charges that his rooms as well as those of his son and aids have been rifled many times since the contempt proceedings were instituted—was added later in the day.

Woman's Story Doubled.

In reporting the attack to Justice Siddons, Attorney Douglas asserted that Mrs. Lantz had been "cruelly assaulted" and that confusion of the brain had forced her removal to a hospital. Dr. F. L. Mason, the hotel physician, declared today, and repeated the assertion to District Attorney Gordon, that he found no evidence of a concussion—"only slight bruises or scratches on her head," and that Mrs. Lantz was not taken to a hospital.

WOMAN IN LOVE SUIT INVADERS OFFICE; SEIZED

Nathan Wilbur Williams, 59 years old, a real estate dealer and executor of the $2,000,000 estate of his father, John Marshall Williams, yesterday caused the arrest of Mrs. Ethel Vivian Vance, 42 years old, a divorcee, who is suing him for $50,000 on a charge of breach of promise to marry.

Mrs. Vance was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct in Mr. Williams' office in the Williams building, 205 West Monroe street. She went there, she told her lawyer, Louis L. Cohen, to ask the real estate operator for $165 to pay the rent on an apartment where, she alleges, he used to call on her.

Released on $50 Bond.

On her entrance to his office, Mrs. Williams became enraged and had an employe call the corner traffic policeman, Mrs. Vance related. She was taken to the South Clark street station and held there until Attorney Cohen posted a $50 bond.

The trial of the breach of promise suit is scheduled to start within a few days before Judge Jacob H. Hopkins.

Mrs. Vance alleges that she met Mr. Williams five years ago, that she accepted his proposal of marriage, and that this prompted her to break an engagement to a New York man.

Married 24 Years Ago.

The real estate dealer was married in 1894 to Elizabeth Mae Cook. He has two grown children.

Mrs. Vance said she first learned that Mr. Williams was married after she had accepted his proposal. He told her that he would obtain a divorce, she related; instead, she alleges, he broke his engagement.

PROMINENT MEN FAIL TO PRESS CON GAME CASE

Lawrence J. Barrett, who is alleged to have victimized several prominent Chicagoans, was freed on four charges of operating a confidence game by Municipal Judge Howard Hayes yesterday when the complainants failed to appear.

Among the witnesses who did not appear were Postmaster Arthur C. Loeber, who is in Washington, Chief Deputy Sheriff Charles W. Peters, who was said, was attending a funeral, and James T. Igoe, former city clerk, who could not be reached.

Barrett was charged with having sold stock in the Hayes Equipment company to the extent of $225,000, which was said to be worthless.

VOLCANO SHOOTS NEW ISLE FROM SEA; MANY FLEE

BATAVIA, Java, Jan. 27.—After an extremely violent explosion under the sea at the craters of the Krakatau volcano, between Java and Sumatra, at 4 p. m. yesterday, a new island appeared in the strait near Krakatau island.

Thousand Flee Volcano.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
WELTEVREDEN, Java, Jan. 27.—[8:18 a. m.]—From the mountains overlooking the island-studded waters of Sunda strait tens of thousands of terror-stricken people are watching the eruption of the volcano of Krakatau.

Thirty miles out in the middle of the strait, its flaming throats far below the level of the Indian ocean, the volcano is in eruption for the first time since the great disaster of 1883.

Huge columns of steam rise from the sea.

Fireballs of molten lava, expelled from the crater at less than minute intervals with a roar like thunderclaps, keep the steam column under almost constant illumination for a mile into the sky.

The natives have fled from the lowlands along the coast into the neighboring hills to avoid the possibility of tidal waves which could sweep in from the city of Toloekbetong, on the southern tip of Sumatra, is almost depopulated.

On Lang island, hardly a mile from the craters, the heat is intense. The natives have fled to the mountain tops on the far side of the island, awaiting rescue craft. The heat within 100 feet of the island of Krakatau is reported by the official Dutch volcanologist to be about 114 degrees Centigrade (237 degrees Fahrenheit.)

2 Kids' Prank Scares Entire North Shore

When Mrs. Theodore G. Rockwell of 277 Chestnut street, Winnetka, kissed her 8-year-old daughter, Paisley, and her 5-year-old son, Theodore Jr., and watched them down the front steps yesterday morning she believed they were going to school.

It was 9 a. m. and the temperature was 9 above zero. The interior of the Horace Mann school was warm, but the open road appeared more to Paisley and Theodore than comfort. So they didn't go to their lessons. They took a trip. It was their intention to find a ranch they had heard their parents talk about.

At noon Mrs. Rockwell went to the school to get them. She learned with alarm that they had not been there. Visions of kidnappers rose before her. She hastened to the police and reported. Then she called her husband, an insurance broker with offices at 175 West Jackson boulevard, and he hurried to Winnetka to take part in the hunt that was organized.

Search Whole North Shore.

The police began a systematic canvass of Winnetka, Glencoe, Hubbard Woods, Wilmette, and Evanston. No one was found who had seen Paisley and little Theodore. Rumors grew. Mysterious men in automobiles had been seen near the school and the kidnapping theory gained ground.

As the afternoon drew to a close the Boy Scouts were called out and neighbors of the Rockwells began to form volunteer posses. Searching parties spread out over the windwept prairies and the gloomy marshes of the Skokie valley. There was talk of dragging the lake. By dinner time 400 persons were actively engaged in seeking the romantic pair.

Arrangements were made to continue the combing of the prairies through the night. A beacon light system was outlined. Radio stations were notified and broadcast appeals to look out for the Rockwell children.

"Babes in Wood" Found.

Meanwhile what of Paisley and Theodore? They had spent 20 cents, including a Canadian nickel, and had wandered as far south as Rogers Park. The malted milk and the peanuts they had eaten hadn't furnished them much strength. They were tired, too.

Late in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schechtel of 1355 Greenleaf avenue were passing a wooded lot at 641 Sheridan road. Mrs. Schechtel saw a red object gleaming in the lamplight. It was little Theodore's scarf. He and Paisley had gone to sleep, like the ancient babes in the woods, on a pile of brush. But there were no little birds to cover them with leaves and they admitted they were glad to be found and taken home.

Four Women Thus Far on Hickman Jury

BY GEORGE SHAFER. (Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 26.—(Special.)—Four women were seated in the jury box with seven men when the sanity trial of William Edward Hickman, kidnaper of 13-year-old Marian Parker, adjourned late today.

That a jury favorable to both state and defense would be accepted tomorrow was considered likely, as Judge J. J. Trabucco, who replaced Judge Carlos Hardy, demanded speed from both sides in moving the case through the preliminary stages.

A panel of 12 jurors had tentatively been accepted by the defense late today, but just before adjournment two were removed by state attorneys' objections. One juror was then added, leaving eleven in the box.

This panel will be subjected to peremptory challenges tomorrow, but it is thought these will be disposed of by the "hurry up" judge in short order.

Try to Force Out New Judge.

It was a day marked by the efforts of Judge Trabucco to whip up speed in selecting the jury and by the endeavors of Hickman's attorneys, Jerome Walsh and Richard Cantillon, to emphasize in the minds of the possible jurors the importance of the claim of insanity as defense in crime.

The first move of the defense this morning was to challenge Judge Trabucco's right to hear the trial, on the grounds that the substitute judge had not been chosen by agreement between district attorney and defense counsel, but by the presiding judge of the superior court. Judge Trabucco crisply overruled the challenge and immediately slipped the machinery of law into high.

The judge did most of the preliminary questioning of talesmen himself, then turned them over to District Attorney Asa Keyes, and later to the defense.

Defense Lawyer Delays.

Keyes contented himself mainly with ascertaining that the tentative jurors had no feeling against capital punishment for the crimes set forth in the indictment under which Hickman is on trial, but Jerome Walsh, the 26-year-old chief counsel for Hickman, was not so brief.

He first insisted that each juror tell whether he had any fixed idea of the legal defense of insanity is "used as a sham or a subterfuge." He insisted on negatives to the question: "Would you vote a hanging penalty regardless of whether the defendant seems to you to be insane or sane, against a man who should be proven guilty of such offenses as charged in this case?" and also to the question, "Do you think that insanity is a valid defense for a criminal act?"

Cautious of School Sentiment.

One of the most persistent questions put by Walsh was whether the talesmen had children attending the school which Marian Parker, the slain girl, attended, or children of about the same age as Marian. The prospective jurors were also questioned closely about newspaper reports they may have read of the case. They were asked if they had contributed to the Hickman reward fund.

The answers of the prospective jurors were varied, most of them returning no direct answer, but saying they would be able to submerge previously informed opinions and rely on evidence and the judge's instructions.

Suggests Time Saver.

Eventually Judge Trabucco tried to inject speed by suggesting that, inasmuch as Walsh's questions were of such a nature that they could be asked of all the jurors, the defense should examine the remaining talesmen in a group. Only such questions as pertained to each individual juror personally were permitted to be asked.

NEW BLAST HITS SHOP A SQUARE FROM REID HOME

Police Meet Today to Map Plan of War.

BULLETIN.

While the search for the men who bombed the homes of City Controller Charles C. Fitzmorris and Dr. William H. Reid was in progress early today, racketeers defied the police and the administration by hurling a bomb in the doorway of the shoe repair shop of J. Kustczyk at 5521 South Racine avenue, less than a block from the home of Dr. Reid. Kustczyk said that he had recently been threatened with such action unless he joined a racketeers' association. The damage was slight.

All of Chicago's police power will be thrown into a campaign to capture and punish the bombers of the homes of City Controller Charles C. Fitzmorris and Dr. William H. Reid, it was promised by Commissioner of Police Michael Hughes last night after Mayor William Hale Thompson had declared the blasts due to hatred of his administration for its anti-vice and anti-racketeer policies.

Commissioner Hughes conferred with the mayor, with Mr. Fitzmorris and Dr. Reid, who are among the most influential of the mayor's political associates, and then announced that plans for the war on the bomb throwers would be outlined at a meeting of deputy commissioners in his office today.

A Battle Without Quarter.

That it will be battle without quarter for those who are caught in the police net, was indicated by Mayor Thompson.

"This is a direct challenge from the lawless," he said. "We accept this challenge. When our fight is over the challengers will be sorry. We shall work harder than ever to break down the gangs back of this outrage. Commissioner Hughes has already demonstrated his ability to cope with them."

Commissioner Hughes asserted that there would be no spectacular police drives or wholesale raids on ruppert criminal hangouts to find the "men he sought. Instead, he said, he would depend on steady, undercover investigation to bring out the facts."

"When we go out after our men, we'll know who we want and we'll get them," he added. "You may be sure they won't be handled with kid gloves, either."

Officials' Homes Guarded.

One of the first steps taken was the placing of guards at the Reid and Fitzmorris homes. Two policemen also were assigned to watch Commissioner Hughes' home. In this connection it was learned last night that a policeman was regularly on guard at the controller's residence and that he was inside when the bomb was exploded at the doorway.

Only Deputy Commissioner William E. O'Connor, in charge of the detective bureau, was willing to talk about the investigation so far. He hinted that the police already had valuable information in regard to the identity of the bombers. But, he added, what he knew would be brought up at the meeting this afternoon.

"We are not asleep on the job and there will be surprising developments in a few days," he continued. "Our campaign to drive every crook out of Chicago will go along."

Mr. Fitzmorris and Dr. Reid maintained throughout the day that they knew no more than the general public why they had been singled out for bombs.

"I know no more than you do," the city controller told questioners. Dr. Reid was not convinced even that the bomb was meant for his home.

Crews Are Fragmentary.

The difficulties of the police are enhanced by the fact that there are practically no direct clues wardens of all the Illinois prisons were asked to give names of men recently released who might by any chance be bombers.

The first reaction of Mr. Fitzmorris to the bomb was to attribute it to some disgruntled criminal he had punished during the former Thompson rule in Chicago.

A second hypothesis—it was little more—was that the men whose homes were damaged had refused political favors to some one who determined on this means of avenging a slight. Dr. Reid, who lives at 1257 West Oakfield boulevard, was formerly state administrator of the Illinois prison system, now holds no official position. Nevertheless, he is powerful in the Thompson council.

Five Arrests Made.

In connection with the case the police made five arrests during the day. One of those taken into custody for questioning was Sam Kaplan, 23 years old, who formerly was a member of the west side gang that was headed by the slain Jules Portogues, racketeer and robber. Kaplan, who gave 808 West 14th street as his address, denied knowledge of any bombing.

Deputy Police Commissioner William Russell, in whose district the blasts occurred, questioned four suspects, two of them girls. They are Louise Bernhard, 26, of 3312 Carroll avenue; Peggy Russell, 22, of 4718 Drexel boulevard; Vito Pellicani, 22, of 1242 Elburn avenue; and Joseph Carlini, 22, of 1115 South Marshfield avenue.

The four, in a speeding automobile, were caught by Sgt. Ernest Deliege and a detective bureau squad after a chase that led through half a dozen stoplights. They were arrested only after their car caught fire.

Deputy Commissioner Russell suspected that the two men were involved with the Forty-two gang on the west side, but announced he could find nothing definite to connect them with the bombs. The two were booked on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Only One Eye-Witness.

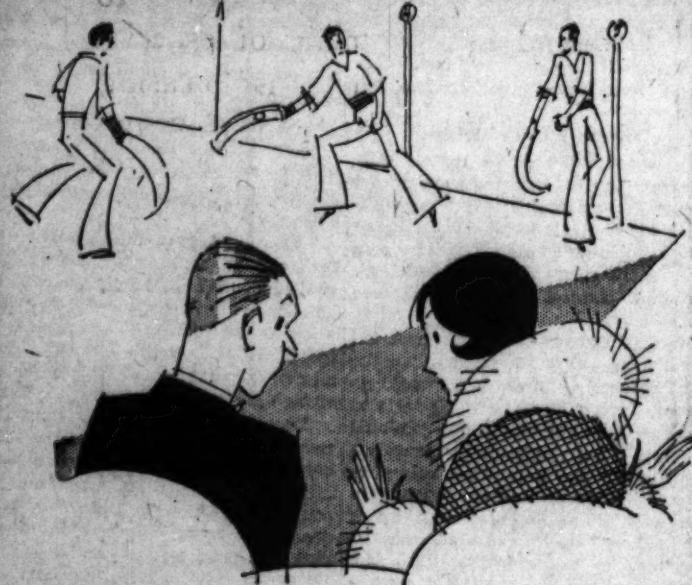

The bombers apparently used a Dodge sedan from which to hurl their engines of destruction. Edward McCarthy, 1929 South Oak Park avenue, Oak Park, reported he had seen such a car pause in front of the Fitzmorris home a few seconds before the blast went off.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe was aroused by the bombings and ordered the entire resources of his office to aid in catching the guilty.

Assistant Prosecutor Walter G. Walker, who for weeks has been engaged in an inquiry into the operations of various species of racketeers who frequently resort to bombs to bring their victims to terms, hurried to Fitzmorris' office to offer his services. Mr. Walker combed through the voluminous records of bombing cases in his files in an endeavor to get a clue in the case.

Plane on Nonstop Flight from Florida Overdue Here

Officials of the Municipal airport were anxiously awaiting last night the arrival of a Stinson-Detrol plane, which was reported to have left Tampa, Fla., at 6 a. m. yesterday on a non-stop flight to Chicago. Supposedly the pilot and passengers went with unexpected delays. In the machine are Eddie Stinson, A. S. Kirkby, E. L. Penway, and Frederick L. Long. They were due to arrive at 6 p. m.

LOESCH POINTS OUT LOOPHOLES FOR CRIMINALS

New Head of Commission Submits Report.

Seven suggestions for the correction of conditions bearing on the crime problem in Chicago were made at a meeting of the directors of the Chicago Crime Commission yesterday. Frank J. Loesch, new president of the commission, who signed the report, will appoint committees to call on various officials to discuss methods for carrying these suggestions into effect. The conditions pointed out, which, it is stated, the Crime Commission has ample evidence to support, are as follows:

"Too many criminal prosecutions fail in the Municipal court. Last year 19,842 felony charges were filed in the Municipal court and of this number 6,560 defendants were held to the grand jury.

Escape Felony Charges.

"There are too many pleas of guilty accepted in the Criminal court to lesser offenses than those charged in the indictments. In 1927, cases disposed of in the Criminal court numbered 4,326. In the same year felony counts were waived in 1,772 cases and pleas of guilty to misdemeanors were accepted in place of such felony charges in the indictments. In other words, the defendant pleaded guilty to a crime which he did not commit and was discharged from punishment for a crime which he did commit. This is a travesty on justice.

"There are too many criminals admitted to probation in the Criminal court. In 1928 there were 429 probations in this court and in 1927 the number increased to 644.

"There are too many technicalities in the Illinois criminal code which unduly protect the accused.

"The commission respectfully recommends to the consideration of judges sitting in the criminal courts that a measure of common sense in the administration of justice in the interest of the public welfare would be commendable and that too without doing violence to a defendant's constitutional rights."

Jury Evasion Criticized.

"There are too many good citizens asking for and receiving from judges improper excuses from jury service. About forty per cent of those summoned for jury service in the Criminal court are excused by judges and it is the practice to call for a venire of sixty-five men for each court every two weeks.

"Unnecessary continuances are granted to defendants in criminal cases by complacent judges who by such actions aid in the escape of criminals by the wearing out of the state's witnesses.

"The commission respectfully recommends to the consideration of judges sitting in the criminal courts that a measure of common sense in the administration of justice in the interest of the public welfare would be commendable and that too without doing violence to a defendant's constitutional rights."

ANGRY BACHELOR EXPLAINS WHY HE STAYS THAT WAY

LONDON, Jan. 26.—(U.P.)—What's sauce for the gander is sauce for the goose. The Daily Express, which yesterday featured a proposal that the government, which is really in need of sources of revenue, tax bachelors, today gave prominence to the story of an angry bachelor, who contended that if bachelors were taxed, spinsters must also be taxed.

The bachelor said he had without success asked ten women to marry him. He wondered how many men were single because they had had a similar experience. He suggested the possibility that some of the famous bachelors enumerated by the paper, including Lord Balfour, the bishop of London, and Sir Robert Horne, might be "bearing the cross of unrequited and undying love."

The bachelor's letter concludes: "There never before have been so many women who refuse the responsibilities of marriage. At all other periods of history spinsterhood was a disgrace. Today women boast about it."

ROUMANIA AND ITALY AGREE ON BALKAN POLICY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Jan. 26.—After a two-hour conversation with Premier Mussolini, Nicolae Titulescu, foreign minister of Roumania, received the foreign press and announced that the Italian dictator's Balkan policy meets with his approval.

M. Titulescu said he is convinced that Italy's policies do not conflict with those of the little entente, of which Roumania is a member, but on the contrary, their policies agree, since both are aimed to maintain the Balkan status quo established by existing treaties.

M. Titulescu did not mention whether he discussed with Premier Mussolini Roumania's differences with Hungary, but despite the fact that his country is closely allied with France, he announced his flat approval of the Italo-Albanian treaty signed last November.

"Far from being an element of discord, the pact is another contribution toward peace in the Balkans," he said.

WOUNDED BY DAUGHTER; DIES.

Samuel Juszyk, 30 years old, 1507 West 126th street, Burr Oak, died at the Roseland Community hospital last night. He was accidentally wounded by his 7-year-old daughter.

CROWE BREAKING $500,000 RING OF CHECK FORGERS

Cohen Confession Tells Further Details.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe announced last night the breaking up of the $500,000 a year forgery ring was in sight, due to a confession obtained from one of its members. Five men are named, and rewards are to be offered for the arrest of those still at large.

Aaron Moshiek, wizard with a pen, is named as the leader, and those involved with him are Charles F. Cohen, Morris Boguslawski, "Bennie" Belsky, and Joseph Goldstein. They operated not only in Chicago but also in New York and points between, according to Goldstein, who for two days has been revealing the secrets of his accomplices to Assistant State's Attorney Lee LaRochelle and John Dempsey and to William E. Rowens Jr. of the Illinois Bankers' association.

Blocks Testing of Checks.

Goldstein said Moshiek and Boguslawski stole several checks from the Homer brothers' furniture factory with the intention of appropriating the concern's $50,000 bank account.

Moshiek always did the pen work, Goldstein said, but seldom took any chance of cashing the forged checks.

A scheme used for the protection of the passer was explained by Goldstein as follows:

"Whenever any of us went into a bank with a 'stiff,' Moshiek would be nearby, calling the man whose name was signed to the check. He has talked for fifteen minutes or more on the phone to such persons to prevent bank officials from communicating with the party."

Moshiek's guile saved him on many occasions, but once he did slip, and this, according to Goldstein's confession, may have been his worst one.

Reveals Federal Case.

"A certain pickpocket had a postal money order for $10 which he was going to tear up," Goldstein stated.

Moshiek said that would be throwing money away, so he took the order and signed it and cashed it himself.

This was one for the government.

COMMISSION ORDERS SURFACE LINE BUSES FOR NORTHWEST SIDE

Residents of the far northwest side will benefit from an order issued yesterday by the Illinois Commerce Commission. The Chicago Surface Lines were ordered to establish bus feeder transportation on Diversey avenue from Milwaukee avenue west to the city limits and on Belmont avenue from Central avenue to the boundary line.

The territory to be served by these feeder bus lines is in the 39th and 41st wards, both of which have populations of approximately 150,000. Many residents of that section of the city live more than a mile from a street car line, the commission was told.

The commission next Monday will hear petitions for the establishment of similar bus lines on Addison street from Broadway to Harlem avenue.

Prosecutors LaRochelle and Dempsey decided, and they notified the postal inspector's office. Conviction for this offense in a federal court would bring penalties heavier than those imposed by the state laws against forgery.

Moshiek told of a dozen or more instances when he disposed of "Moshiek paper." He and Cohen, he said, usually would try it after some of Moshiek's girl acquaintances had tested the signatures on a small check.

Moshiek organized his gang in the county jail two years ago, Goldstein declared. At that time Moshiek was a hospital orderly, sort of gentleman in waiting to Terry Druggan who then was occupying comfortable quarters in the jail hospital.

INDICT TWO MEN JUDGE FREED ON ROBBERY CHARGE

Police Start Search for Minihan and Mangan.

For the second time in two days the grand jury yesterday reversed a finding of Municipal Judge William R. Fetzner and voted indictments against men he had found to be not guilty of crime.

Daniel Minihan and Daniel Mangan, both having murder acquittals to their credit, are the men police started seeking on charges of robbery with a gun after the grand jury had disregarded the ruling of Judge Fetzner. After listening to evidence presented by Assistant State's Attorneys Lee LaRochelle and Edward Spiro, the jury decided that a Criminal court jury should pass on the charges.

Minihan and Mangan are charged with lining up six or more men in the Auburn Park garage, 438 West 75th street, and taking their money at the point of a revolver.

John Hecovar, 6553 South Peoria street, told the grand jurors yesterday that the men robbed him and forced him to drive them to the garage and assist in the holdup.

Judge Fetzner at the time the case was before him said that he liberated the men because the evidence showed the men before him to have been drinking, but maintains that intention is no defense for crime.

The grand jury on Wednesday indicted Charles Cohen, alleged member of a forgery gang, who also had been liberated by Judge Fetzner.

ARMY RUM TRIAL BURNS AFOUL DRY RAID ILLEGALITY

Search Warrant Attacked by Bass Defense.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

The United States army ran headlong into the practical workings of the prohibition department yesterday and as a result the court martial proceedings against Capt. J. L. Burns at army headquarters were temporarily disrupted, with a possibility in sight for a victory for the defense in the two most vital counts against him.

The trial was halted just as Maurice H. Bass, federal prohibition agent, was presenting the thrilling story of how, in a wilderness of box cars in the Chicago Junction railroad yards, he and his men found a cache of wet goods in one car box of wet goods and cans of pure alcohol among the possessions of Capt. Burns.

Two Truckloads of Evidence.
The "corpus" was in the court room, consisting of two trucks filled with boxes and cans in front of the eleven army officers sitting at military court at the long table.

Assistant R. T. Smith sat in eagerness, waiting for the trucks, partly covered by army blankets. On the cans were the marking, "Dona-Polona-Polona." It was the prohibition department's big day in court.

Then Attorney Egbert Robertson, representing the accused captain, asked the question of the right of property under which Agent Wolff entered box car 230,139 on the morning of Sept. 29 last.

"I executed a search warrant," said Wolff.

"Where is the warrant?" Mr. Robertson wanted to know. It appeared that it was not on hand, but was in the files of United States Commissioner Henry C. Butler.

"What difference does it make?" asked the trial judge advocate, Maj. Donald B. Sanger. "The accused is charged with violation of the federal prohibition act."

But the defense thought it made a difference and insisted on the point. The law member of the court ruled with them and Wolff was taken from the stand and given a subpoena to bring the papers into court this morning.

Authority Is Issue of Trial.
The question then will arise as to the authority under which the search warrant was issued. It was not legal to issue this on a mere telephone tip, and it appears in this case that the prohibition officers obtained information from a civil service clerk in the very headquarters. If the court finds this authority for invading the privacy of an officer's effects was insufficient the two last counts against Capt. Burns will have nothing to stand upon, and in no other part of the case is there evidence of his direct connection with the transportation of intoxicating liquors.

Agent Wolff's affidavit sense of smell may be the way out for the defense. He was questioned by Maj. Sanger as follows:

Q—Did you have occasion to execute a search warrant on Sept. 29 last?

A—Yes.

Q—When?

A—About noon that day.

Q—What time?

A—About noon that day.

Q—What time?

A—About noon that day.

Q—What time?

A—About noon that day.

Q—What time?

A—About noon that day.

ENGAGED

Michael Arlen, novelist, who is to wed Countess Atlanta Mercati, daughter of former Greek king's chamberlain.

day I was called by Alexander Jamieson, assistant federal administrator, to his office and given certain information. I went to the Chicago Junction railroad yards near this depot with another agent and the captain of the railway police.

Q—What did you do? A—In going through the yards, getting close to a car numbered 230,139, where the docks were partly open, there was a strong odor.

Q—What next? A—The agent came with the search warrant and at 4 p. m. I executed it.

Q—What did you do? A—The box car was opened and I got inside. There were a great number of packing cases, furniture, barrels, etc. I finally found five cases.

Q—What were the contents?

Crucial Question Asked.
This was the crucial question and here the proceedings stopped until it can be determined whether Wolff had acted legally up to that point.

How Capt. Bass' four cans happened to be 198 per cent proof alcohol is a mystery.

HELD ON EXTORTION CHARGE.
John Kashew, 30, of 6423 South Oakley avenue, was held to the grand jury in bonds of $1,000 yesterday for attempted extortion in connection with the writing of threatening letters.

MEXICAN POLICE RAID SCHOOL FOR PRIESTS; JAIL 300

Say Seminary Is Center of Revolt Propaganda.

BY JOHN CORNYN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
MEXICO CITY, Jan. 26.—More than 300 teachers, priests, divinity students and other pupils were arrested this morning, and the Catholic seminary for the education of priests here was closed.

Shortly after classes began more than 100 police surrounded the seminary, an immense building which covers an entire city block, and entered the college, informing the father superior, Dr. Benigno Esquivel, that the teaching staff and students were under arrest.

The director of the seminary took the matter coolly and advised the pupils to do the same, but the more enthusiastic and younger men shouted, "Long live Christ the King!"

Find Religious Propaganda.
According to the statement of the police making the arrest, the priests, teachers and divinity students, when arrested, were wearing priestly garments and other dresses, contrary to the law regulating procedure in schools.

In the seminary were found all kinds of religious propaganda of a revolutionary and seditious nature, and the seminary was the center of propaganda against the government," said a member of the police.

The divinity and other students had a society organized for anti-government propaganda, and visited families all over the city. From the seminary they sent out other propaganda, which was responsible for the greater part of the Catholic unrest. The seminary was closed, as it had become a menace to society.

Students and members of the staff of the seminary printed and circulated throughout the city, suburban towns, and interior cities photographs of Catholics shot for the attempt on the life of Gen. Alvaro Obregón, accompanying them with notes exciting the people to revolt against the government. This graphic propaganda is nationwide. Numbers of these propaganda photographs fell into the hands of the police before they decided to close the seminary.

Police Seal Doors.
The seminary was indirectly, if not directly, connected with the Catholic uprisings in the states of Jalisco, Guanajuato, Colima, Queretaro and Durango.

Mounted and foot police placed 229 teachers and pupils and the director in police autos and took them to police headquarters. When the seminary was closed and the doors officially sealed, pupils of the primary schools were held in the building attached to the seminary.

MISSING

IRENE KRONER.

Police last night continued their search for Irene Kroner, 17 year old daughter of Victor Kroner, 243 West 51st street, who disappeared on Jan. 3 after her mother had received a pencilled note from the girl indicating she had eloped. The parents blame a man they know only as "Alex" for luring her away and the father declares he is a member of a south side gang.

Seminary proper, to be delivered to their parents or guardians when called for. Several boarding pupils who said they were without homes, and others on the sick list, were allowed to remain in the building, attended by servants.

Police Chief's Statement.
Inspector General of Police Roberto Cruz said today: "We have sufficient proof that lately the Catholics have renewed their seditious activities, sending out revolutionary propaganda. Many Catholics have taken part in revolutionary activities, inciting Catholics to revolt against the government. We have copies of these propaganda circulars. Our investigations show that in numerous Catholic educational establishments in this city, pretending to be laical schools, every kind of violation of the religious laws of Mexico takes place. Therefore many Catholic institutions have been closed lately."

QUICK VERDICT OF GUILTY WINS JUDGE'S PRAISE

Hospital Pay Roll Robbers
Face Year to Life.

CRIMINAL COURT.
Oscar Watson and George Hall, attempt to commit robbery, sentenced to 1 to 14 years each in Pontiac reformatory by Judge John P. McDevitt.

Sam Gold, rape, sentenced to 2 years in Pontiac reformatory; John Denton, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in Pontiac reformatory by Judge Otto Kerker.

Juries unafraid of gangland threats won the praise of Judge Harry B. Miller of the Criminal Court and Assistant State's Attorney Harold Levy and C. Wayland Brooks last night. The praise followed the return on the first ballot of a verdict of guilty against two members of a hoodlum gang charged with numerous pay roll stickups.

Joseph Piech and John Murray were convicted of participation in the $19,000 Michael Reese hospital pay roll robbery. That occurred Feb. 3, 1927. They face indeterminate sentences.

Prosecutor Goes to Italy
to Try Alleged Slayer
(Picture on back page.)
Assistant State's Attorney Joseph Nicolai left yesterday to prosecute Matteo Ambrosini in Genoa, Italy, for the murder of a woman committed in Chicago three years ago. The long trip of the prosecutor is made necessary by the Italian law which provides that an Italian subject when arrested in his own country cannot be extradited, but can be tried in Italy.

Police Guard Jury After Verdict.
The captain and his men were on hand when the verdict was returned to see the jury, judge, and prosecutor safely from the court building.

Murray was an attendant at the hospital and tipped off the robber gang. Joseph Piech planned the job. John Piech, his brother, was sentenced Wednesday on a plea of guilty. Other members of the gang, including a former policeman, are to be tried later.

PRIZE JURORS' ACTION.
"If we had more jurors like you, we would not have as much crime in this community," the judge said. "The jurors are to be congratulated for the fearless and quick manner in which they acted on the evidence presented by the state."

"I am glad to see that the jury in this case was not cowed into a miscarriage of justice, because of the display of toughness by defendants and their friends in this case," Prosecutor Levy declared.

The two defendants and others once attempted to escape by overpowering bailiffs as they were being taken from the courtroom. More recently Capt. William Schoemaker and a score of policemen were called to guard the courtroom because of threats of another attempt.

HILL, ON STAND, CHARGES POLICE MISTREATED HIM

Defense Springs Surprise in Murder Trial.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

Ottawa, Ill., Jan. 26.—(Special.)—Harry Hill, pale, but composed, was placed on the witness stand in Judge Joe A. Davis' court this afternoon in a surprise move by his attorneys to bar the testimony of William B. Kent, chief of detectives of Seattle, Wash., regarded as one of the state's principal witnesses.

The jury was excluded from the court room during the testimony of the 22 year old defendant, who is charged with the murder of his mother. Hill told of being brutally treated by Seattle police when he was captured after a nationwide search, last September. The defense argued that because of this alleged brutal treatment the statements were made under duress and, consequently, were not admissible in evidence.

After the youth had told his story and Capt. Kent had outlined his testimony, the judge announced that he would rule tomorrow morning on the defense's motion to exclude the detective's story from the jury.

Composed on Stand.

Young Hill was white lipped as he told his story, but his voice did not tremble, even under a severe cross-examination by Special Prosecutor Andrew J. O'Connor. He slouched in the witness chair, his knees crossed.

He took occasion to make a vigorous denial that he had killed his mother, Mrs. Ella A. Hill, and buried her in the basement of their Seattle home last August. This assertion came in a rather strained voice as he described police efforts to force him to confess.

"They called me names I wouldn't like to repeat," Hill testified. "They slapped and kicked me. They wouldn't give me food and took my coat away, although it was cold. They told me they had a thousand and one bits of evidence against me and that I'd be strung up sure. They said my dad and my girl would be charged with the murder if I didn't confess."

"All the time I denied my guilt. I told them I had nothing to say and I didn't have anything to say. I didn't commit that murder, I told them."

Capt. Kent had been allowed to testify that he saw Harry in his Seattle office on Sept. 3 and was about to relate the conversation which took place then when Defense Attorney Lee O'Neil Brown objected and the jury was sent from the room.

"Your honor, we want to put on a witness to show that this boy was treated brutally and any admissions he made were under duress, therefore the jury should not be allowed to hear them," Mr. Brown argued.

Calls Hill to Stand.

Prosecutor O'Connor protested. The detective would not testify concerning a confession of guilt, but merely about certain statements made by the boy, he asserted. After some argument the judge told Attorney Brown to produce his witness.

"Harry Hill, take the stand," said the attorney.

So much noise was made by the audience, two-thirds feminine, at this announcement that order was not restored for some moments. Hill smiled slightly at the gasps and exclamations as he walked firmly to the stand.

After preliminary questions he was asked to tell what happened in Seattle. "I was arrested in my hotel," he said. "I was taken to the city jail and questioned for two hours. I was taken to a cell for thirty minutes and then questioned by Capt. Kent. I was first questioned by two plain clothes

LABOR IS AGAINST ANY U. S. "INTERFERENCE IN LATIN-AMERICAS"

Miami, Fla., Jan. 26.—(AP)—Unequivocal opposition to interference by the United States with the internal affairs of any Latin-American country was expressed by the American Federation of Labor in a letter sent by its president, William Green, to Charles Evans Hughes, chairman of the American delegation to the Pan-American congress, now in session at Havana.

The letter, which was made public tonight, a few hours before its receipt in Havana, also deplored the administration's failure to appoint a labor member on the American delegation. The working people of the United States are firmly convinced that cordial and friendly relations can only be established and maintained between all countries represented in the Pan-American union through the development of a perfect understanding that the government of the United States will not at any time interfere in the affairs of any Latin-American nation and will not, either directly or indirectly, encroach on their sovereign or territorial rights, Mr. Green wrote.

men. One was polite but the other struck me in the mouth while I was smoking a cigaret and burned my lips. They made me sit down and stand up hundreds of times. They tried to get me to sign a piece of paper. They called me names.

"I didn't get any food from the time I was arrested Sunday afternoon until 4 o'clock Monday afternoon."

Judge Davis then announced he would hear what Capt. Kent had to say before he decided whether the jury might listen to the testimony.

"I didn't abuse the boy nor use profane language to him," the detective chief said. "He identified himself to me. I asked him if he had killed his mother. He said he had not. I asked when he saw her last and he said it was Aug. 7 and 8 before he left home. He told me he first heard of his mother's death when he read in Chicago newspapers on Aug. 23 of the finding of the body. He went back to Streator that night, he said, and tried to get in touch with his father or Attorney Shays."

Repeats Story of Flight.

"Then he heard, he said, that a coroner's jury had accused him of the murder, so he drove to Beloit, Wis., and then to Minneapolis. There, he told me, he took a set of Minnesota license plates from an automobile and replaced his set of Illinois plates. From there he drove to Washington state."

Hill, the detective said, explained his employment of Peter Busch, a gardener, to clean out bricks over the grave, by saying his mother had left a note ordering that this be done. He explained clay on shoes found in the home by the statement that he had been working around the back yard. After this testimony the court announced he would rule tomorrow on the question of its admissibility.

George A. Dickus, an elderly country physician, was the principal witness at the morning session. He told of being summoned by Dr. H. C. Hill, the defendant's father, on the morning of Aug. 22, to search the Hill home. They found evidence of the grave in the basement, but did not dig at that time, he testified.

Later the body was exhumed. This testimony followed the evidence of Esther Hamrin, the secretary of Dr. Hill. She declared that Harry had a fifteen minute conversation with his father the morning of the day the body was discovered. The youth then announced he was going to Chicago, she testified. It was several hours later that Dr. Hill and his friend, Dr. Dickus, made their search of the Hill residence, it was brought out.

NEW AMERICAN EMPIRE HEADED BY CANADA SEEN

other Latin Americans are either indifferent or opposed to the severance of the ties of these possessions with Europe. The reason for this attitude is to be found in jealousy and distrust of the United States.

The Latin Americans are cold to the arguments that the continued possession of American colonies by European powers is in conflict with the spirit of the Monroe Doctrine and a potential menace to the safety of the Panama canal, which is as vital a feature of the defense of the Latin republics as it is of the defense of the United States. All they can see in the acquisition of the British West Indies by the United States or the establishment of the independence of the British colonies is another step southward by the "Colossus of the north."

There is, however, pronounced Latin American sentiment in favor of admitting Canada to the Pan-American union, and the Latin would welcome the Canadians all the more warmly if the dominion were to acquire control of the British colonial possessions in the Americas.

There is a general feeling among the Latin that the admission of Canada would strengthen the union, and it does not take much penetration to detect the underlying consideration, in many instances, that Canada would tend to counterbalance the dominating position of the United States.

See Check on Yankees.

Particularly it is felt that if Canadian rule were to be extended to the British West Indies, Canada would acquire a community of interest with Latin America and would exert a powerful influence to check the advance of the United States in the Caribbean region. By those who favor the admission of Canada, it is pointed out that the commercial aviation convention now being evolved by this conference would not be complete without the inclusion of Canada.

Brazil, Peru, and Panama appear to be lukewarm on the question of the admission of Canada.

Argentina, Chile, and Mexico favor the admission of Canada.

"It makes no difference what political status Canada has," Julio Garcia, chief of the Mexican delegation, said. "She is just as free and actually just as sovereign as any other country belonging to the Pan-American union. I hope that I shall have an opportunity to support a proposal that Canada enter the Pan-American union."

Fernando Gonzalez Ron, another Mexican delegate, echoed this sentiment and Carlos Silva Villalobos, Chilean delegate, said he would "heartily support the admission of Canada."

Canadian financial interests, which are expanding into Latin-America, are said to be agitating for Canadian membership in the union, but Macdonald King, the Canadian prime minister, is understood to be against any move in this direction at the Havana conference.

U. S. and Colombia Agree.

HAVANA, Cuba, Jan. 26.—Aviation occupied the time of the communications committee at the Pan-American conference today. Various amendments to the projected Pan-American aviation treaty were introduced by the United States, Mexico, Brazil, and Paraguay. Ambassador Fletcher is chairman of the subcommittee which will examine these amendments. He announced at the committee meeting that Colombia and the United States had come to an understanding over the proposals of the United States with respect to agreements between countries on areas to be prohibited to aviation for military reasons. Mexico is desirous that countries shall have the right to establish air routes according to national interests.

MARINES SCALE MOUNTAIN, TAKE SANDINO CITADEL

Destroy All Trenches at "Impregnable" Fort.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Gen. Augusto Sandino's last known stronghold on El Chipote mountain has been wiped out by United States marines.

Airplanes returning from a flight over El Chipote today reported that a column of 400 men under Maj. Archibald Young had reached the crest of the 4,000 foot mountain, destroying the rebel general's fortifications on the way.

Marines Now Control Mountain.

Sandino fled to El Chipote after the marines took Quilali, his former headquarters, in a battle on Dec. 30. El Chipote was heavily bombed about two weeks ago, and Sandino's forces are believed to have scattered in small bands. At the time Sandino was reported to have been killed, but marines headquarters believe he was wounded. Marines have been advancing cautiously up the slopes of El Chipote since then, and there has been sporadic resistance by Sandino's men, but opposition has been swept away and today's movement of Maj. Young's column gives the marines control of the entire mountain.

Destroy All Fortifications.

The airplane reports state that all of Sandino's fortifications, trenches, and camps have been destroyed. The peak itself is a natural fortress, which Sandino boasted for eight months could never be taken. There have been no casualties among the marines in the advances, and Maj. Young signaled to aviators today that all was well with the marines, who were having little difficulty.

Illinois Marine Wounded.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 26.—(AP)—Two marines were wounded in an engagement on Jan. 23 at Chipote, Nicaragua, the navy department was informed today. Details of the encounter have not been received. The marines injured were Private Ben Ingles of Mulberry Grove, Ill., and Nicholson B. Hageman of Detroit.

Countess Gets Permit to Appeal Leiter Decision

Lady Marguerite Hyde, countess of Suffolk and Berks, yesterday obtained permission from Superior Judge Denis J. Sullivan to appeal that part of his decision in the Leiter case which denied her prayer to oust her brother Joseph Leiter, as trustee of the $10,000,000 estate of their father, the late Levi Z. Leiter, pioneer Chicago merchant. That part of Judge Sullivan's decision which ordered Leiter to render an accounting in, certain business ventures of his estate has not been appealed.

ORDER CHARGE ON ONE PIECE PHONE SET CUT IN HALF

The European style of telephone known as the cradle set may now become popular in Chicago.

The Illinois commerce commission yesterday ordered the Illinois Bell Telephone company, the Belvidere and the Southwestern Telephone companies to reduce the charge of the one piece sets from $6 to $3 per year. Officials of the Illinois Bell Telephone company announced last night they will file a petition for a rehearing within the thirty days allowed by the commission's order.

The principal feature of the hand set is its construction. Both the receiver and transmitter are attached to a handle in such a way that when the receiver is placed to the ear the transmitter is in a proper position for talking. A comparatively long cord on the unit permits the convenient use of the hand set within a considerable radius of the stand. Telephone officials say there are 5,000 cradle sets in operation in Chicago.

BRIDGE ENGINEER

AVERY IS KILLED

BY STEEL CABLE

Struck by a broken steel cable which snapped as he passed, Fred Avery, city engineer in charge of bridge maintenance and repairs, was fatally injured yesterday while supervising work on the new 130th street span over the Calumet river.

Mr. Avery was walking across a scow moored beneath the bridge when the cable gave way and lashed backward, breaking both his legs and hurling him to the floor of the scow with such force that his skull was fractured. He died half an hour later at Roseland Community hospital.

Mr. Avery, who was said by City Engineer Loren D. Gayton to have been one of the city's leading bridge experts, was 50 years old and lived at 1453 Foster avenue. He had been in the city bridge department for sixteen years, having started as a draftsman.

MAYOR TO PROBE TALES OF WASTE ON STREET JOBS

Proposes Test of Costs on Paving Repairs.

In an attempt to find out if there is graft or waste in the expenditure of the city's vehicle tax fund, Mayor Thompson is planning a unique experiment to test costs for street pavement repair work, it was learned yesterday.

The mayor's plan, which is expected to be sent to the council finance committee at an early meeting, provides for a division of the city into two sections, all the repair work in the area north of Madison street to be turned over to private contractors and that on the south side to be kept under city supervision as at present. After a trial of six months or a year, a comparison of costs is to be made.

Expert Approves Proposal.

John Richert, financial expert of the finance committee, has given the plan his indorsement. "More than $4,000,000 a year is spent from the vehicle tax fund and most of it for street repairs," Richert said. "The fund has become a sort of budget junk heap into which money is thrown and forgotten. There is no doubt that the present system makes possible all kinds of abuses."

Reports of huge contracts and excessive costs under both this and previous administrations have come to the mayor, it is understood, and he is said to be determined to put the question to a practical test despite the protests of some of his advisers. Several hundred city jobs would be canceled under the private contract scheme, it was pointed out, to the embarrassment of certain aldermen and committeemen.

Expect Fight in Council.

Protests also have been heard from several north side aldermen who maintain that private contractors would gouge the city. "Strong opposition is looked for if the measure goes to the council floor."

Under the 1928 vehicle tax budget, an appropriation of $3,337,138 is set up under the pavement repair section, $150,000 of which is allotted for salaries and wages, $140,000 for material and supplies, and $2,887,138 in a lump sum to be spent at the council's discretion.

NAVY LAGGING IN PLANE CARRIERS, MOFFETT SAYS

3d on List in Fast Craft, He Tells Committee.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Jan. 26.—(Special.)—More fast aircraft carriers must be built by the United States if the American fleet is to have an equal chance for victory on the sea, Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, veteran chief of the bureau of aeronautics, told the house naval affairs committee today.

In a comprehensive statement that epitomized the results of his six years' experience as head of naval aviation, the frank speaking admiral told the committee members that aircraft carriers are indispensable to the security of the fleet. No battle fleet inferior in air strength can hope to win a modern sea engagement from an equal fleet well supplied with aircraft, he declared.

U. S. Third on List. The admiral emphasized the tremendous importance of passing the $748,000,000 naval strengthening bill, which provides five 13,500 ton fast carriers. In sponsoring this measure, he wanted that this country now stands third in effective fleet aircraft carrier strength among the five powers signatory to the Washington naval treaty. The navy witness disclosed figures showing that Great Britain has twice as many carriers capable of keeping

CALLS PLUNKETT'S PREDICTION OF WAR WITH BRITAIN ASinine

Washington, D. C., Jan. 26.—(Special.)—Sharp denunciation of Rear Admiral Plunkett, commandant of the Brooklyn navy yard, for his prediction of war with Great Britain in the near future, was voiced in the house today by Representative James V. McClintic (Dem., Okla.).

Mr. McClintic, a member of the house naval affairs committee, contrasted the attitude of Secretary of the Navy Willbur toward Admiral Plunkett's statement with the swift punishment meted out to Rear Admiral Magruder when the latter criticized naval methods and organization in a recent magazine article. "Such idiotic, asinine outbursts as this put this nation in bad repute with other nations of the world," he declared.

Representative Loren Black (Dem., N. Y.) responded, he said, some of the criticisms of Admiral Plunkett during the last day of two. He mentioned specifically those coming from the White House.

"There is," he asserted, "no finer American in this country than the commandant of the Brooklyn navy yard." Up with the fleet as this country. The United States has two carriers carrying two flight decks capable of handling 130 operating planes. Great Britain has six flight decks and can maintain 348 operating planes with the fleet, while Japan has three flight decks and can maintain 200 operating planes with its fighting craft. The Langley is not counted for the United States because of its slow speed. Need 750 More Planes. Admiral Moffett told the committee

STATE DELAYS REMUS' FIGHT TO LEAVE ASYLUM

Lima, O., Jan. 26.—(AP)—Attorneys for George Remus, former bootlegger, today prepared an application for a writ of habeas corpus seeking Remus' release from the Lima state hospital for the criminal insane, but they delayed filing it until a more opportune time.

It was their intention to seek an immediate hearing for Remus, who recently was freed in Cincinnati of the murder of his wife, Imogene, and committed to the asylum here on grounds of criminal insanity.

County Prosecutor E. M. Botkin announced, however, that he would ask that the hearing be delayed so that he might familiarize himself with the case. Remus' attorneys then withheld the application for the present. Although Botkin had nothing to do with the prosecution of Remus he must represent the state against him in any sanity proceedings in this county.

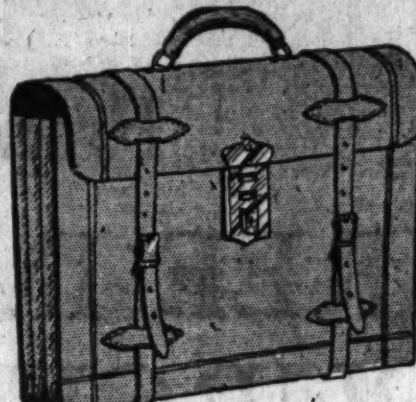

Famed Italian War Ace Dies When Parachute Fails

ROME, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Guido Nardini, war-time ace of the famous Francesco Baracca pursuit squadron, was killed today when he crashed to earth at Clamping field because of the failure of his parachute to open. Sig. Nardini, who was 47 years old, was a noted stunt flyer. He remained in the aviation service as an instructor after the war.

4 MORE NAMES ADDED TO LIST OF AUTO VICTIMS

Mother Is Killed in Car Driven by Son.

Four names were added to Cook county's motor death toll yesterday, making a total of 67 fatalities since Jan. 1.

Mrs. Rebecca Levy, 62 years old, 4115 South Aberdeen street, was killed in a collision at 60th and Carpenter streets between a car driven by her son, Harry, and one operated by Charles Hoffman, 6244 South Carpenter street.

Leola Berner, 7 years old, 4010 Brighton avenue, died at the German Des Moines hospital of injuries suffered on Wednesday when she was struck by a cab at 43d street and Ashland avenue. The driver, George Cassidy, 1733 South Robey street, was arrested.

Ladyette Moore, 35 years old, 1100 South Paulina street, was struck and killed in front of 1304 West Jackson boulevard by an automobile driven by Miss Eleanor Koehler, 18 years old, 1807 North 29th avenue, Melrose Park.

Injuries Prove Fatal.

Injuries received three weeks ago proved fatal to Homer Lane, 67 years old, 1643 West Monroe street. He was struck in front of 1653 West Washington boulevard by a car driven by Joseph Jankowski, 19 years old, 1221 North California avenue.

In Hammond, Ind. Peggy Haeger, 4 years old, was killed by a taxicab as she was running across the street to meet her mother.

Samuel Misini, a Highland policeman, was killed early this morning when the automobile which he was driving three miles north of Waukegan was struck by a machine driven by A. W. McDaniell, 85 Reed street, Milwaukee. With McDaniell were Wells Leana, owner of the car, and George T. Thornton, both of Milwaukee. The three Milwaukee men were taken to a hospital, where all were reported seriously injured they may die.

Driver Seriously Injured.

In a head-on collision between a street car and an automobile at 31st and La Salle streets the motorist, believed to be O. J. Eutcher, 38 years old, 818 University place, Evanston, was perhaps fatally injured.

Following the recommendation of a coroner's jury, Police Magistrate James M. Feron of Oak Park yesterday held William J. Ryan, 34½ North Waller avenue, to the grand jury in bonds of $20,000 on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Louis J. Block, principal of the John Marshall high school, who died after Ryan's automobile struck him at Washington boulevard and Wisconsin avenue, Oak Park, on Dec. 7.

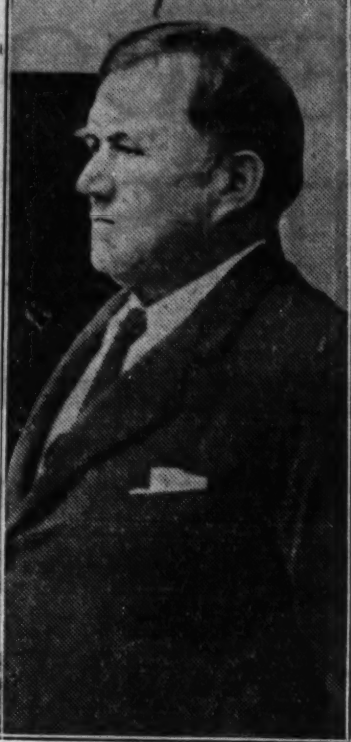

PAIR ARRESTED; CHARGE MURDER AND ARSON PLOT

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 26.—(Special.)—Mrs. Bertha Hunt, wealthy Canton housewife, and her husband, Chris Hunt, were bound over today to the May term of the grand jury under $100 bonds each on four charges of conspiracy to commit murder and arson.

The warrant, charging an attempt at wholesale murder, was signed by Henry Picton, a mine owner, during a preliminary hearing on arson charges preferred Monday after Mrs. Hunt had been trapped by police. It was asserted, while issuing final instructions for the burning of one of her many pieces of property in Canton.

The warrant was based on the statement of Richard Hitchcock, 19 year old tenant of the residence at 713 South Third street, Canton, who said he was employed by Mrs. Hunt to burn the house he lived in and dynamite the Picton mine, also located on property owned by Mrs. Hunt.

PERSHING GETS BIG WELCOME IN OLD HOME TOWN

Laclede, Mo., Jan. 26.—(AP)—Returning to his home town today for a second time since the world war, Gen. John J. Pershing again received the plaudits of his old friends and neighbors.

From the time of his arrival shortly after noon until his departure after a dinner in his honor tonight, Pershing was rushed about from one meeting place to another and was kept busy shaking hands.

Approximately 300 persons, or three-fourths of the town's population, were at the station when Pershing's train arrived.

Mayor Edmund B. Allen, boyhood friend of the general, was the first to greet him formally. Others quickly gathered around, among them Mrs. Mattie Packer, Pershing's cousin, and Henry Lomax, Laclede bank president, who once clerked in the store of John F. Pershing, the general's father.

Kresge Gives $725,000 for Methodist Children's Home

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 26.—(Special.)—Sebastian Kresge, department store magnate, has set aside $725,000 for the erection and maintenance of a new Methodist children's home, to be erected on the outskirts of Detroit. The fund consists of $225,000 cash and $500,000 a year for ten years.

"BOOTLEG JURY" BARRED IN TRIAL OF YANK "PIRATE"

Prosecutor Outlines Case Against Ex-Dry Officer.

BY CYRIL MORTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NASSAU, Bahamas, Jan. 26.—Before court officers in archaic wigs and gowns and a judge in red robes, C. H. "Pop" Nestle, former American prohibition officer, without a lawyer, appeared this morning in Nassau's court, house, and, with vigor undiminished after months of confinement, protested against the "bootlegger juryman."

Sir David Beatty, the British chief justice, upheld Mr. Nestle's objections.

"I have a grievance against the American government; they seized my boat," said one prospective juror.

"Then I don't want you," murmured "Pop."

Only Ordinary Case of Theft.

Attorney General H. C. P. Cox, outlining the prosecution, said the case against Mr. Nestle was only an ordinary case of theft. It was different with the United States coastguard officer, Larry Christiansen, he said. Mr. Nestle was within British jurisdiction, but Christiansen was not, and proceedings had been started for his extradition from the United States to Nassau, but the proceedings were not yet completed.

George Woodside, engineer for B. C. Backus, the bootlegger who is preferring charges against "Pop" for taking his craft in British waters, swore that Christiansen, on a coast guard picket boat and with Nestle at the wheel, boarded their boat.

Seized in British Waters.

"I am going to take you to Miami," he testified Christiansen had said, and towed them to West Cay, a British island where Nestle lived.

Mr. Backus, captain of the same vessel, swore that Christiansen jumped on board his boat at dusk. "We did not resist," he added.

"I protested very much to Christiansen seizing me, because we were in British waters," he said. "I thought Christiansen only wanted to look us over. We were within a mile of the British shore when we were seized by the picket boat and later were conveyed to Coast Guard 247."

Further evidence against Coast Guard Christiansen was conveyed by a Colt automatic marked "property of the U. S. government," which was produced in court and sworn by Mr. Backus to be Nestle's gun, found in Nestle's house at Cat Cay. It was alleged by Mr. Backus that Christiansen gave the gun to Nestle.

The court was adjourned until tomorrow, when Nestle will open his defense.

PLENTY OF MILK IS PROMISED DESPITE THREAT OF STRIKE

Plenty of milk at the prevailing price of 14 cents a quart will be available in Chicago, regardless of a strike threatened by the Milk Producers' association, officials of the largest local distributing concerns assured the public yesterday.

"My company is prepared to give its customers all the milk they want, strike or no strike," announced Dr. F. D. Walmley of the Borden Farm Products company. Similar statements came from the Welland Dairy company, the Bowman Dairy company, and the Ira J. Mix Dairy company. All of them declared that the reserve supply of milk is adequate for any emergency.

The Producers' association is asking for a raise in the wholesale price of milk from $2.50 to $3.00 a hundredweight.

GIRLS FREEZE TO DEATH IN SLEIGH MILE FROM HOME

Malone, N. Y., Jan. 26.—(AP)—Ira Dunn, 14, and Lena Dunn, 11, sisters, were frozen to death, and their mother, Mrs. Gilbert Dunn, of Chateaugay, suffered frozen feet, as a result of remaining in an open sleigh in a snow storm from 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon until neighbors found them today in a field less than a mile from their home.

Mrs. Dunn drove a team to the district school a mile distant to bring her children home yesterday afternoon. As she started back, the storm increased in intensity, and in the blinding storm the horses wandered off the road and into a field. Mrs. Dunn was so overcome by the cold that she was unable to guide the team.

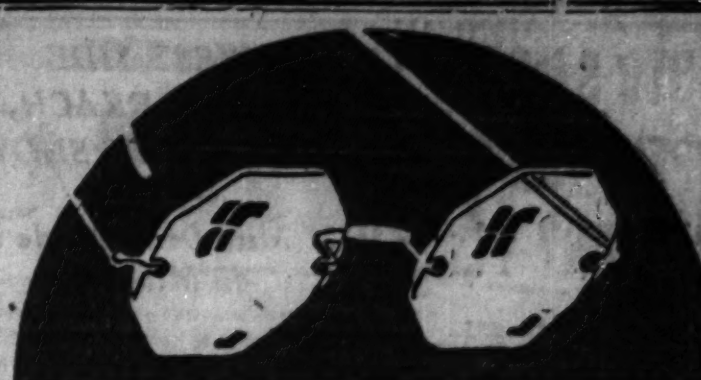

When found by the woman's husband and two neighbors, all were huddled together on the sleigh, two of the little group frozen to death. Ten inches of snow covered the horses. The mother's condition is serious.

GEORGE ADE TO BECOME EDITOR PURDUE ALUMNUS

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 26.—(Special.)—George Ade, famous humorist and playwright, will take over the editorship of the Purdue Alumnus on Feb. 1, it was announced today at Purdue. The Alumnus is a monthly magazine devoted to both university and alumni activities. Mr. Ade will write the editorials and handle the matter that goes into the publication.

Mr. Ade was graduated from Purdue in 1887 and has for years been one of its most loyal alumni, the Ross Ade stadium being one of his benefactions. He has written several plays for the student theatrical organization, and was formerly a trustee of the university. Mr. Ade, who is now at Miami, Fla., will do his first month's editorial work there.

It is also announced that Harold Gray, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE comic strip artist, will draw special cartoons for the Alumnus. He is also a Purdue man.

AUTO SHOWS TO OPEN TOMORROW IN MANY PLACES

New Models on Display at Coliseum, Hotels.

BY PUTNEY HAIGHT.

The twenty-eighth annual National Automobile show, which opens at the Coliseum tomorrow, will not be alone in the field of exhibition, it developed yesterday. Announcements piled up during the day of a considerable number of other automobile shows, all of which are expected to open tomorrow.

Coincidental with the opening of the National show, the thirtieth annual automobile salon is to make known to invited guests the latest models in automobile custom body construction at the Drake hotel. At this exhibition, characterized as a de luxe show, the average of values of cars shown is $10,000, with many exemplars reaching $20,000 or more in price.

Three Other Shows.

In more or less contrast to this salon of refinements are the announcements of the Chevrolet, Ford, and Overland Whippet manufacturers, each of whom will maintain a salon exhibition with the lightest, smallest, and least expensive cars in the market. The Chevrolet salon is to be a part of the General Motors salon at the Stevens hotel, opening tomorrow evening. As announced, this exhibition will be at proportions which will compare in a way with the parent show at the Coliseum. Besides exhibition of the general Motors line of cars, which includes Cadillac, La Salle, Buick, Oldsmobile, Pontiac, Chevrolet, General Motors trucks, and Yellow cabs and coaches, there will be Frigidaire and other products of the corporation. There are to be exhibited 112 cars of various makes.

Separate Show for Ford.

The Ford company has announced that it will maintain an exhibition of its products as an independent enterprise, wholly divorced from the National show. It is to be held at the 121st Regiment armory, 16th street and Michigan avenue, and is to show a complete line of Ford vehicles, from the smallest automobile to the giant tri-motored airplane. The show will include a demonstration of factory processes used in building cars, planes, and tractors at the home plant. The Graham-Paige company has announced its salon at the Blackstone hotel, coincidental with the automobile show.

Two Salons for Hudson.

The Hudson company has announced that it will maintain two salon exhibitions in addition to participation in the National show. These are to be held at 1444 South Wabash avenue and 2220 South Michigan avenue, where all 1928 models of both types of cars are to be shown. In addition, a special salon is to be held for Hudson cars only, to be opened at 1006 South Michigan avenue, where models never before shown will be made known.

The Chrysler company announces that its salon will be maintained at the Congress hotel, continuing through show week.

Former Opera Star Gets Divorce; Charges Cruelty

FAR WEST SIDE EASY TO REACH, AUTO TRIPS SHOW

17 Mile Drive Made in 45 Minutes.

Automobile traffic data concerning comparisons of time for travel from the downtown district to points seven miles out, in various directions, was upset yesterday by the clocking of test trips to the west.

It was found that an automobile traveling at the same general speed that takes a car from the county building to Central street, Evanston, in fifty-one minutes, will negotiate the trip from the county building to the west limits of Western Springs in forty-five minutes.

As this trip was made under almost similar traffic conditions as those to Evanston—that is, at the same time of day—it indicates that despite surface appearances the far west side south of 23d street possesses merit in its motor traffic facilities.

Comparison of Trips.

The comparisons of trips in various directions to date is as follows:

| Direction | Time (Minutes) |
|-------------------------------|----------------|
| Evanston (north)..... | 51 |
| Desplains (northwest)..... | 57 |
| Indianapolis (northwest)..... | 59 |
| Western Springs (west)..... | 45 |

Four trips were made to check the rather surprising results of the journey to Western Springs. Two of them were over the most direct routing and two were attempted over other street combinations.

The fast route from the county building was over Washington boulevard, Ogden avenue and Ogden road. The essential time was made on the new 40 foot pavement of Ogden road after leaving the underpass at 28th street. North of that point to Washington boulevard the going was not any too good, and in the neighborhood of the underpass and sharp turn at the city limits congestion slowed up the expedition materially. Grade crossings of Roosevelt road and Jackson boulevard were also responsible for several minutes of time. Also the pavements made one feel pity for the car.

Different Route Is Tried.

Altering the route from Western Springs to the south of the North Western tracks to avoid a crossover at La Grange and substituting Oak Park avenue and Jackson boulevard for Ogden (even in its present shape) and Washington, cost six minutes of time. It required 51 minutes, or the established normal average for Evanston, to make that route. The tests indicate that a point three miles west of Western Springs, probably somewhere near Westmont in Du Page county, would coincide in element of time with the distance from downtown to Wilmette.

Straightening out of the grade crossing situation in La Grange, which is planned for next summer, and the widening of more of the route to 40 feet, promises still greater economy of time in that direction.

Adding also the proposed improvement of pavement on Ogden avenue, which may or may not come to pass, and widening of the entrance to the city proper, the facilities for reaching this area to the west offer favorable conditions when compared with other investigated points.

SEIZE SCALPERS SELLING TICKETS ON LOOP STREETS

City Prosecutor Opens Drive Against Offenders

Mingling with Rialto crowds at theater time last night, a police detail from the city prosecutor's office seized six flashily dressed young men in the act of "hustling" tickets in front of the Erlanger and Four Cohans theaters.

This, it was announced, is the beginning of a drive against the variety of scalper who conducts his business on the street instead of the legal shelter of an office.

Lieut. John Fried, who headed the raiding party, said that he was acting on complaints of theater managers that the curbstone brokers, greatly increased in number and boldness recently, were annoying their patrons.

One of the young men, Jack "Whitney" Gordon of the Hotel Sherman, was indicted at his arrest and charged that the powerful licensed brokers had intimidated the raid. Gordon, police said, was a frequent offender. The others arrested were Dave Cohen, 1424 South Springfield avenue; George Fischman, 1238 South Troy street; Arthur Pisk, 514 South Park way; Earl Campbell, Hotel Sherman, and David Rosenthal, 3150 Douglas boulevard.

From the admissions of the scalpers, it was learned that theirs is a lucrative "racket." An average of thirty tickets on week nights and fifty on Saturday nights are disposed of by each scalper to theater-goers, who are induced to part with an extra $1.65 for their duca.

The men were released on $25 bail and will be arraigned tomorrow morning before Municipal Judge Howard W. Hayes in Clark street court. They will be charged with violation of the section of the city code which prohibits the sale or solicitation of amusement tickets on loop streets.

YOUTHS HELD FOR 14 ROBBERIES.
Frank Carter, 22 and Max Stein, 24, captured while they were holding up a score of patrons of the Weiss knock shop at 4820 North LaSalle avenue, a week ago, were held to the grand jury in $121,000 bonds on fourteen charges of robbery yesterday.

FOUR WOMEN ON JURY THUS FAR TO TRY HICKMAN

Court Rushes Questioning of Talesmen.

one at a time. The defense attorneys objected, but were overruled.

Walsh asked Mrs. Esther H. Bailey, widow, of Whittier, Cal., whether she would be fearful of public opinion in returning a verdict if she concluded that Hickman was insane. She said that she would be "honest in my conviction."

"Even if it subjected you and your two daughters to disagreeable acts in your community?" the defense insisted.

Mrs. Bailey said, "Yes."

Battle Over Insanity.

A battle of objections raged over Walsh's question, as raising the point of "presumption of continuing insanity," which is recognized by law. The judge did not comment, however, on the way Walsh worded his questions which were charged with being intended to tell jurors that once the fact of past insanity is recognized the prosecution would have to introduce evidence showing a resumption of normal mentality prior to the Parker girl kidnapping and killing, in order to prove the state's hanging case.

Two attorneys, Dr. Frank Mikels for the state, and Dr. A. L. Skoog of Kansas City, for defense, sat in a row of chairs along the courtroom wall to Hickman's right and not fifteen feet from the accused youth, who betrayed no knowledge of their presence. The psychiatrists kept Hickman under continual observation.

Hickman a Quiet Defendant.

The slight looking youth who held the state of California in a grip of terror for ten days until he was lodged in the jail in iron, said nothing and did nothing during the day, except to sit motionless in his chair between and a little behind his attorneys, Walsh and Richard Cantillon. He came into court unmanacled. Neither of his counsel addressed a word to their client. Both spent the day, like every other day in court with their client with their backs to the prisoner.

Judge Trabucco accepted the offer of Judge Carlos Hardy, whom the defense yesterday disqualified, to conduct the trial in Hardy's courtroom.

Hickman's brother, Alfred, sat in the courtroom, inside the counsel railing, but addressed no words to Edward Hickman.

Missing Highland Park Boy Found in St. Louis

Robert Phelps, 15 years old, of Highland Park, was taken into custody yesterday by the police in St. Louis. He had been missing from his home since Sunday. He explained that he had just taken a trip by the hobo route to see his sister, who is a student in a college at St. Louis. His mother left last night to bring him home. Robert's father, Ernest Phelps, is an official of the American Lithographing company.

Payrolls . . . are building the great Chicago Payroll Region into the world's capital city of industry. Red-blooded national and international industries are spending millions of dollars right now in this district that has a weekly payroll of over $5,000,000.

The American Steel & Wire Company will spend $60,000,000 on a new plant which will employ 9,500 men . . . The Roxana Oil Company has spent $36,000,000 for a new refinery in this district which has jobs for 7,600 workers . . . Jones & Laughlin has extended its contract for filling in its 1,400 acre site for a new plant that it is reported will cost $75,000,000. A plant that will be as large as the Gary Steel Mills.

The population of this district has jumped from 4,000 three years ago to 17,000 today—the fastest growing industrial center in the country . . . 400 manufacturing plants are now established in this region and their products are highly diversified, assuring a stability and a constant payroll of tremendous size.

A new community development which MUST ultimately serve this great beehive of industry is now being opened. It is restricted and zoned for business, apartments and single residences, is ripe and ready for building or investment.

You can't make a mistake by purchasing a home or an investment here. Profits are inevitable—and should be quick. You can see for yourself where millions are being spent by the great Public Utilities and by industries in this region. Here is, perhaps, another opportunity to make more money than you can make by a lifetime of labor. Mail in the coupon for details.

BOOMING GUNS WELCOME LINDY TO SO. AMERICA

Crowds Cheer Flyer at Cartagena, Colombia.

CARTAGENA, Colombia, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, fresh from his ten day vacation in Panama, was off again today on his good will tour, which will carry him to the Pan-American conference at Havana.

The American air hero left France at 10:30 a. m. and after a four hour and thirty minute flight came to earth at the Est. Grande flying field, outside of Cartagena. He estimated the hop at 400 miles. The weather was ideal, and a wind at his back aided the aviator. It was the first time that the people of South America had an opportunity to greet the flyer whose exploits in North America, Central America and Europe had thrilled them so often. Cheers, whistles, and played and the spectators shouted in greeting.

Whistles Greet Air Hero.
As the famous Spirit of St. Louis came into sight over the city at 1:45 p. m., the spectators broke into enthusiastic cheers. Factory and train whistles shrieked and the strains of the music in the bay added to the clamor. The crowd continued until he landed. The greatest crowds ever seen in this city gathered in and around the flying field. When Col. Lindbergh sighted the multitude from aloft he made several circuits of the field before deciding to alight. When he did land he came down gracefully in front of the governor's box. Then the spectators broke through the strong police cordon and surrounded the plane, and it was with difficulty that a passageway was cleared so that the aviator might proceed to where the official welcome awaited him.

Following, Col. Lindbergh climbed from the cockpit of his plane and was welcomed by the official delegation which had been selected yesterday. When it became known that he would spend here several days, the capital of Colombia. Walking through the great crowds, he entered an automobile with the governor of the state of Bolivar and several high public officers. Later he went to the suburb of Isla de Manga, where he was the guest of H. O. Ware, American business man.

French Aces Reach Guatemala.
GUATEMALA CITY, Guatemala, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Dieudonne Costes and Joseph LeBrix, French aviators, landed on the flying field here at 2:08 p. m. They had flown from France field, Panama. The Frenchmen, after a stay here of several days, will fly to Mexico City, whence they will fly to the United States for a visit to several of the larger cities.

Every winter I used to get sore throat

"Try Formamint! a friend suggested. Our family doctor said, 'Excellent: contains an effective, safe antiseptic.' Now there's always the little metal pocket case filled with Formamint, in my handbag."

Formamint cannot take the physician's place. For bad sore throat see him at once. But, at the first sign of raspiness, begin with Formamint. Unlike gargles, it can be used anywhere. In crowded places, too. It continuously releases its germ-killing agent.

To treat sore throat, one tablet every hour; as a preventive, one every two hours. All druggists.

Eagle Flies Again

Col. Charles Lindbergh flew from Colon, Panama, to Cartagena, Colombia, yesterday, resuming the tour of Latin American countries on his way to the Pan-American conference at Havana.

ACOSTA FLIES LOW, JAILED; HELD FOR PLANE THEFT

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 26.—(AP)—

A charge of stealing an airplane in New Jersey has been brought against Bert Acosta, trans-Atlantic flyer, who started a five day jail sentence here today for skimming the housepost of Naugatuck in violation of the state laws.

Acosta was visited at the jail by Guyas Cergines, head of the syndicate whose plane he is said to have stolen. Acosta explained that the plane had been presented to him with the stipulation that it was to be used in an endurance flight which he and Clarence Chamberlin were planning.

Star Witness in Dry Case Taken in Ram Raid

Mrs. Josephine Rzeznick, wife of the star government witness in the trial of Frank Rydzewski Jr., all-American football star and South Chicago politician, on charges of violating the prohibition law, was arrested yesterday by prohibition agents in a raid on a soft drink parlor at 8501 Buffalo avenue. The soft drink parlor recently was reopened after having been padlocked for one year. Dry agents are seeking Rzeznick to question him. The agents confiscated beer and whiskey at the place.

JAILED FOR BEATING LANDLORD.

Richard Peterson, 3046 Wilson avenue, was sentenced to six months and fined $25 and costs yesterday for beating his landlord, Louis Haas, 65, with a lead pipe on Jan. 23.

RONGETTI CASE WITNESS TAKES POISON; WILL LIVE

Death Threats Against Reed Recalled by State.

Earl Reed, former X-ray operator at the Ashland Boulevard hospital and considered, with his wife, Mrs. Hazel Reed, former head nurse, as key witnesses for the prosecution against Dr. Amante Rongetti, owner of the hospital, attempted to end his life last night by taking poison. At Mercy hospital it is said he will recover.

Reed and his wife were threatened with death during the inquest. The coroner's jury held Dr. Rongetti on charges of murder, due to the death of Miss Loretta Enders, 19, and her baby at the Ashland Boulevard hospital, where she underwent an operation.

Reed left his home early last evening and unknown to his wife took with him a bottle of Iyol and another containing strychnine and iodine. As he stood at the corner of 26th street and Calumet avenue he swallowed some of the iodine and strychnine.

Because of these threats Reed and his wife often have moved from one side of the city to another.

Recently Miss Lorraine Irwin, another nurse at the hospital, who is to be a prosecution witness, was threatened.

Prompt action at the hospital is expected by Assistant State's Attorney Harry Ditchburne to save his life.

"Reed has been despondent because he has been unable to get work," Assistant State's Attorney Ditchburne said. "The threats against his life and that of his wife worried him and the publicity attendant upon the Rongetti case militated against steady employment and preyed on his mind." Rongetti was given by Judge Frank Comerford in the Criminal court yesterday a continuance until Feb. 27. Rongetti had refused an offer of immediate trial and demanded the full 30 day limit of continuance. The judge informed him, however, that trial must start without further delay on Feb. 27.

MORAL VARIETIES IN CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

At the Cleveland meeting of the executive committee of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America a resolution was submitted recommending that "the executive committee of this body go on record as endorsing an honest enforcement of the amendments to the constitution of the United States, including especially the fourteenth, fifteenth, and eighteenth."

As might have been expected, there was a protest not confined to the southern members, although it was Dr. George C. Summy of New Orleans who said: "Now, let's be careful lest we touch matters of a political nature and commit ourselves to something which will soil the garments of the Bride of Christ." Dr. Joseph I. Vance of Detroit and Dr. Charles Clayton Morrison of Chicago, editor of the Christian Century, supported this view. Dr. W. H. Jernagin, a Negro delegate, pleaded for the resolution, saying that it would give the colored churches a sense of security in the cooperation of the white churches in one of their major problems.

The opposition sent the resolution to a committee for redrafting, and the following day the colored delegate brought the conference to a new sense of consistency, if not of shame, and a resolution endorsing the enforcement of all amendments to the constitution was adopted. Then, to make the distinction upon which so many churchmen insist with respect to the constitution, a separate resolve was taken for the eighteenth amendment alone.

There are difficulties in the way of an easy conscience when moralities are both preached and ignored. As the churchmen were betraying some confusion the United States senate had the same subject under discussion. Senators Glass and Swanson of Virginia resenting the references to the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments in one fashion and to the eighteenth in another, and Senator Bruce of Maryland expostulating against their evasion, their painting of facts and what he called their intolerance.

Senator Swanson and Senator Glass are among the candid, outright men of the senate, and if they evade when these amendments are discussed it is because there is no other way of maintaining their position. With these three senators involved the controversy was wholly within the Democratic party, which made it the more interesting.

The Virginia senators maintain that the Negro amendments are enforced, which makes it particularly pointless for southern churchmen to object to a church resolution endorsing their enforcement. The amendments are not enforced. The Supreme court may not find legal sanction in the manner of not enforcing them, but nullification finds a way. The plain fact is that they did once give full Negro suffrage with consequences that no sensible person wants repeated. That these consequences are not now apparent is all the evidence any reasonable citizen needs to know that now there is no enforcement, that suffrage is abridged and white control of government rests on disfranchisement in fact. Senator Bruce and others who agree with him do not intend to have it attributed to them that they would have colored control substituted for white. The south is merely asked to be itself, to have some respect for consistency, to stop blowing hot and cold on the constitution, to cease being hypocritical in its attitude toward the north—where there is no more violation of the eighteenth amendment than there is in the south—where there is a great deal more enforcement activity and where there is no nullification.

In addition to this, and Senator Bruce also suggested it, the south, in possession of its immunity from the amendments intended to allow every colored citizen freely to vote and safely to hold office, should be made more considerate of other rights of the population which is governed and doesn't govern.

The fogging in Alabama and elsewhere are outrages inflicted on Negro citizens who are helpless because the government does not recognize them as voters. The peaceable Negro farmer who was flogged and terrorized into selling his farm to a prominent church member and kinsman of the neighborhood shrieks the injustice of it, although he dare not open his mouth and although most officials are dead to him. It would be a savage sarcasm to call him an American citizen. White control by nullification cannot permit these things.

The fourteenth and eighteenth amendments cannot be talked down in the senate or in the church, not even by much noise about the eighteenth amendment. They are coming up and they will make some changes in this country yet.

BOMBING THE ADMINISTRATION.

A person or persons yet unknown threw a bomb that did serious damage to the home of Mr. Fitzmorris, former chief of police and now city controller. Almost simultaneously another bomb was thrown with less accuracy in the direction of the home of Dr. Reid, formerly an official, now an unofficial, Thompson supporter. The police are at work trying to find the bombers.

Bombing cases are usually difficult ones. Because of the nature of his crime the criminal is nearly always able to get away without detection, or, at the worst, at the risk of a very hazy identification. The only possible course to pursue in a large majority of cases is to locate and follow the motive crew; and this, it would seem reasonable, would be the course for the police to take in trying to find the bombers of the Fitzmorris and Reid residences. There must have been some motive; for political highbush of the Fitzmorris and Reid stature are not bombed for fun. Perhaps, as Mr. Fitzmorris suggests, the explosion on his front porch was an echo of the past when he was in a position to make criminal enemies because of his activities as chief of police.

Bombing is nearly always organization work. Individual criminals resort to the gun, or even the machine gun, but seldom to the bomb. The black powder or the dynamite "pineapple" is the calling card of the gang. It is a way of serving formal notice that even greater trouble is to follow unless something is done first. Bombings mean that behind them, behind the men who do the actual bombing, there is a determined group of men and a schematized system of crime.

It is not the individual bombers that the police will be hunting for in the Fitzmorris and Reid outrages, but the organization and the group motive behind the men at the front. Chicago will wait with interest to find out what criminal gang, inspired by what motive, is seeking to terrorize the Thompson administration.

UNTHINKABLE AND INEVITABLE WARS.

Rear Admiral Plunkett, commandant of the Brooklyn navy yard, has denied that he said war with Great Britain was inevitable, but the remark attributed to him is on its way. One British comment was that there was a plague of rear admirals in both Great Britain and the United States. The Russians say the inevitability arises out of the Standard and Royal Shell oil fight. An inevitable war between America and the British empire would restore a soviet belief in Santa Claus.

Admiral Plunkett says he is not in the habit of predicting wars. But an inevitable war at least can find about as much room in reason, if not in sentiment, as the unthinkable war. Banquets have more unthinkable wars which are entirely thinkable than they have inevitable wars which have no inevitability in them. The wars which couldn't be fought have been fought, and wars which could be fought have been avoided. Luckily, the forecast cannot deliver on the inevitable, and unlikely it cannot on the unthinkable. It was unthinkable that the United States should be drawn into the world war, and after it emerged from that, it seemed inevitable that it would go on at once into a war with Japan.

If the promoters of an unthinkable war with Great Britain are outraged by the advocates of an inevitable war they can console themselves with the thought that they may both be wrong. Budgets and banquets, experts and enthusiasts cover a great deal of ground. The adults have the forecast, and it's the children who later have the decision. The prospects belong to one generation, and usually the event to the next.

When we are able to understand just what the present cradle age will have to think about twenty-five years from now, what it will have to get mad about, what it will see that it wants, how much it can restrain itself or want to restrain itself, then the difference between unthinkable war and inevitable war will be on an open page.

Until then the unthinkable has just about as much authority as the inevitable.

A BELATED HAPPY NEW YEAR FROM BILL HAYWOOD.

Henry Wales found Big Bill Haywood in a small room of a Moscow hotel where the soviet international workers are housed. He has just finished writing a book of his I. W. W. experiences in the United States and is about to start writing one of his communist experiences in Russia. He is so crippled by rheumatism that he cannot get about, and a Russian wife was cooking his dinner in his room.

Mr. Haywood thought it inevitable that the United States would go Red and communistic, although he might not live to see it. He didn't make his reasons for this belief clear in the cabling of them. They seemed to have something to do with high priced American labor, the increase in the billiard class and the desire of the middleman to cut in somewhere. This would indicate a bourgeois Red revolution, which is a curious soviet idea. The bourgeoisie are not permitted to have any kind of revolutions. They are to be the meat of revolutionaries.

Red procedure destroys the intellectuals because they know too much, the large property class because it has too much, the small property class because it is too dumb, and the proletariat because it is too class conscious. That creates the proletarian state in which Mr. Haywood may have the rheumatism for lack of the X-ray and a clinical examination. There may be some mental beatitudes in it. Indeed, the situation would almost require them as compensations.

AMERICAN IMPERIALISM.

[Extract from the Register, Adelaide, Australia.]

There is growing evidence that Americans view with favor an expansion of power for their nation in world politics. Serious American magazines display a curious combination of reprobation of the schemes of British imperialism, with glowing prophecies that the future is with the United States and that they must succeed in the influential position hitherto held by Britain. Ironically, it is largely the champions of the league of nations who insist on such ideas, in order to arouse among Americans a sense of responsibility in regard to world affairs. The preponderant economic position which America now occupies has important imperial aspects. American investors are lending money abroad at the rate of nearly 200 millions sterling a year. This means the acquisition of great overseas interests, and behind the "big navy" movement is the working of a national instinct to obtain power on the sea for the protection of investments. A very considerable percentage of these foreign investments, be it remembered, is in the form of government loans! American imperialism is bound to be a dominant factor in future world politics, and it behooves Australians to pay close attention, in a friendly spirit of course, to the foreign policy of a power to whom we are becoming debtors and whose influence in the Pacific is enormously potent.

LINDERBERG AND TUNNEY GOOD EXAMPLES.

THIS article is not much more than the report of a speech made by the county superintendent of schools to an audience composed principally of parents of school children in his jurisdiction.

Mr. Tobin thought that from the standpoint of the health of boys and girls the outstanding accomplishments of these two young men had been their notable events of the year 1933.

First, a boyish looking young man, has been acclaimed by presidents, kings and people all over America and Europe. He fills space on the front page of newspapers and monopolizes the headlines. He is the hero of hero worshipers, old and young. Since he has been in the fierce limelight, whether at work or at play, he has never made a mistake or shown poor judgment. He has kept his head at all times. He has never said the wrong word nor done the wrong thing.

When he is preparing for a task he works hard and attends to every detail. At that stage caution and care are his watchwords. When he undertakes a record flight he is persistent and without fear. If he has caution he keeps it in his place.

Apparently he has no bad habits. He does not drink, smoke, lose his temper, or worry. He seems to be an outstanding example of good health and physical and mental vigor, all due, in some part, to good habits.

Tunney is almost as helpful as an example to the youth of the land. And he has not always been true that the influence of a prize fighter was good for boys and girls.

Tunney is the wisest champion heavyweight and he seems to be able to win any one who tries to take the title away from him. He, too, is said to be a man of good habits. The newspapers carry accounts of his good habits. He is said to be a clean limbed, clean living, sane physical specimen. Parents feel that Tunney makes it possible to talk boxing with their sons without appearing to make a hero of a bar hound.

The example of these two champions stimulates the interest of boys and girls in play competition in sports, and good health habits as a means to an end.

OLD BURN SCAR.

E. B. writes: I am a boy of 18. While very young I was badly burned about the neck, face and arm.

Is there any way to remove an old burn scar?

REPLY: In some cases a scar can be removed by operation. I cannot say whether that is possible in your case.

Note we have no "your size."

J. W. writes: I am eating from three to four lemons a day, and drinking a half glass of vinegar every day for reducing purposes.

REPLY: If you keep this up you may reduce, but you will have your teeth without doubt. Why go to so much trouble to find a harmful way when there is a simpler, safer one?

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

Letters to this department must be signed with name and address of writers.

THE MAJORITY SHOULD RULE.

River Grove, Ill., Jan. 13.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—If a party bought a piece of property on contract for deed, using the regular form of contract for deed in Illinois, which provides that, in case of failure to make payments, all money paid in is forfeited as liquidated damages, can this contract be canceled by serving notice just the same if the party has paid the full amount of the contract? Wouldn't purchaser have an equitable right or interest that would have to be foreclosed the same as a mortgage if he fought it?

J. H. A. If the purchaser recorded his contract it would be a cloud on the title and if the seller filed a bill to remove such cloud a court of equity would be likely to require him, as a condition to relieve, to refund the difference between the payments and the actual damages that he had sustained by the buyer's default, but it is much wiser for a buyer who has paid enough to have a substantial equity to sell that equity rather than default on the contract.

BETTER TO SELL.

Galesburg, Ill., Jan. 15.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—If a party bought a piece of property on contract for deed, using the regular form of contract for deed in Illinois, which provides that, in case of failure to make payments, all money paid in is forfeited as liquidated damages, can this contract be canceled by serving notice just the same if the party has paid the full amount of the contract? MARRIED OR NOT.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I married a little over a year ago and now have a baby girl a month old. A few days ago my husband confessed to me that he had another wife by common law with whom he had lived for nearly five years but they have no children. Which one of us would have the supreme right, or what would be best for me to do in behalf of the child?

W. S. The order of the previous relationship would depend upon whether there was an agreement for a legal as distinguished from a common law marriage, and upon whether that agreement was entered into in a state recognizing common law marriages. Since 1905 Illinois law has not permitted the contracting of common law marriages in this state, but if the relation was valid when and where it was entered into it would be valid everywhere.

It is such that there was a valid common law marriage and at the time of your marriage the common law was still valid and undisturbed, then your marriage would be invalid.

S-4

A land-lubber lost,
I never knew the sea. . .
Hard-apt and stern-apt
Are strange words to me;
But I saw old Davy
Jones in his locker
(A wet-boarded mocker Hunting his navy).
They came from the strong-box of Davy Jones
As green as the salt in their boyish bones!

I never knew whether
The east coast weather
Froze them stiff in the guttering sea;
(Starboard and port are odd terms)
But I saw old Davy,
Davy Jones—
In the golf-buttoned coat
Of the Gulf Stream navy,
Up to his knees in the thin gray gray—
Like foggy old fuddler
Mother Hubbard,
Hunting his haunts in his rusty cupboard:

And there's many another sailorman
Slept with the fish since the tides began!
They're gone
From the locker of Davy Jones,
In the navy's smoke
And the navy's groans
As the steel-sweat ships wall high, wall low,
And it's over an iron reef they go—
Where the good gods swim out, dead but free
(I saw them . . . though I never knew the sea)
With a cigarette smeer . . .
In their weed-young tones:

"Aw, go to hell
With your Davy Jones!"

REPLY: I notice you don't use periods after your captions. Something ought to be done about that—something ought to be done. Hasn't something been suggested yet? . . . Well, well, well. . . p. p. p. Oh, yes, indeed, captions "NO END!" ORACLE.

YES, OUR BOOK will be out Feb. 8th. It's got to be out Feb. 8th, the 8th. We were worried for a while, but Carl Sandburg came back to Chicago yesterday and handed over the foreword. It's a great introduction, it would be, Carl Sandburg wrote it, and we thank him a thousand times. And the w. k. firm of Minton, Balch & Co., New York, are publishing the book, and the name of it is "Better Angels."

MANUSCRIPT FOUND IN A BOTTLE

R. H. L. It is an irresistible force—impelling, driving, pushing—a force which commands "Go." Cape Town or Cape Horn? England or the continent? A bus at Victoria station or a cab from Gare St. Lazare, which? Yes, De Vere Gardens, I said, out past Hyde Park Corner where that big monument to the departed London coach horses is. De Vere Gardens, where there is hot biscuits and marmalade of a morning, and the chambermaid tells you that taxi-banister mouse trap out to Pto. de St. Quen? It's not too far from La Gare, and that meter registers kilometers faster than it does francs, anyway. Santes sur Boulevard Ney? How the deuce should I know how to pronounce it? "Santes sur"—that's what it sounds like. One hundred and nine—do I have to write it out? Boulevard Ney, the old wall of Paris. Perhaps it was here that Francois Villon beat back the attack of the Burgundians. Perhaps—Concierge! Tell this fellow to "alter," because I've already paid him twice what the meter says.

There's an irresistible force compelling me to get away, leave the States, somewhere, anywhere, the place I can't stand that spelling of Chicago Blues!

CONCERNING THE GREAT BOOLEWSKY

R. H. L.—Coming down on the L. C. yesterday morning I met up with Edward Lincoln Boole, the bland gent who travels under the veneer-like pseudonym of The Great Boolewsky, a nomenclature bestowed on him because of his gifted services as chief jester at the late Imperial Russian court functions. His eminence imparted to me the startling information that if he were lucky enough to make the Line twice on the same day he would be perfectly willing to be assigned to hell's fire. Instantly without waiting for nature to take its course in so far as his ultimate demise is concerned. The friends of this rugged winning personality—he is as common as an old shoe—are more than ready to take up his case. I can cite no better example of his vast popularity than when he completely took the show away from Sam, Henry, Shelby, and your august self upon his first appearance in any Tribune office, scene of which I was an eye witness and one that will linger with me to my dying day. I will close this epistle by saying that this wit of wit stands a fat chance of ever making the Line once, let alone twice, after his hilarious episode in his meteoric literary career for reasons that are perfectly obvious to you. Yours with ghoulish glee—

OH, ADMIRAL PLUNKETT, who would have thought it, you'd be so indiscreet. What did you do it for? You ought to know, our fighting man, must never think of war.

PERMISSION

I cannot ask for what I cannot give,
And so, my friend, I shall not ask from you
Entire and utter faithfulness. We live
Our lives in our own fashion—false or true;
Or dull or flashing; calm or restless ever—
And will not change our own predestined way
For that another follows—fine and fair . . .
Though it may be, and brave and gallant, gay . . .
And so, as I was born that I might walk
Along the path of faithful faithfulness
It would be wrong for me to try to talk
Of lasting love, for sweet forgetfulness
Is mine. But if, dear love, you wish to be Faithful to me, be so, then, to me.

MARGARET JONES.

AMERICANS are a contradictory lot. We stood in line at a steamship agency yesterday waiting to find out how much it will set us back to go to Ireland next summer, and ten people in front of us (out of a total of ten) asked each time the clerk named a ship, "Is that a dry boat?" Or maybe they wanted that kind. Lookal, tykall. R. H. L.

THE LULLABY THAT SOOTHES ONE AROUSES THE OTHER

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 27, 1869.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—This morning's National Intelligencer contains the following: Gen. Burnside arrived in Washington Saturday and was in conference with the President, the secretary of war, and the general-in-chief. We understand that at his own request he was relieved of the command of the Army of the Potomac, and that the President immediately conferred the chief command on Maj. Gen. Hooker.

HEADQUARTERS, ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.—Gen. Burnside this morning (Jan. 26) turned over the command of the army to Gen. Hooker. In his parting address to the soldiers Gen. Burnside said: "By direction of the President of the United States, the commanding general this day transfers the command of this army to Maj. Gen. Joseph Hooker." The new commander is a native of Massachusetts, where he was born in 1818. He entered West Point in 1833. In the Mexican war he particularly distinguished himself at Monterey and Chapultepec. In the present war he fought bravely at Williamsburg, Seven Pines, Fair Oaks, South Mountain, and Antietam, at which latter place he was wounded. When he recovered sufficiently to take the field in a litter he did so and was made commanding general of the 5th army corps. On Nov. 14 last year he was given command of the center grand division of Burnside's army.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Gen. Frank H. Miller, who has been relieved of his command, the latter at his own request and the former because of the conviction here of the necessity of such a course.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 27, 1903.

WASHINGTON.—At a mass meeting of Negroes under the auspices of the Afro-American league resolutions were adopted heartily endorsing President Roosevelt's course in appointing Negro office holders, and a number of speakers, among them some of the most prominent colored men in the south, stated that they were glad that there is an early change in the south in the treatment of Negroes the blacks would resort to the torch and the sword and lay it waste.

CHICAGO.—Miss Edith A. Goodman and William Bradley Walker of Hongkong, China, will be married this evening at St. Paul's church, Kenwood.

CANTON, O.—Judge W. R. Day has accepted the appointment as associate justice of the United States Supreme court, which was offered him two days ago by President Roosevelt.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 27, 1924.

CHICAGO.—Four robbers fled from the Marshall Field Annex building yesterday afternoon with jewelry estimated in value at $250,000. After they had looted Frank Ross of the firm of Heller-Rose, jewelers, and Miss May Devaney, 2831 Mildred avenue, and Miss Gladys Davis, 5313 Calumet avenue, employees in a warehouse on the ninth floor, wrecked the jewel shop, and descended to the ground floor unnoticed. One pearl necklace valued at $150,000 was in the loot.

ASHVILLE, N. C.—Mrs. Sophonisba Harrison Edwards, sister of former Mayor Carter Harrison of Chicago, was granted a divorce from Baker Everett Edwards on charges of infidelity. Edwards did not contest.

LONDON.—A dispatch from Petrograd asserts Austria has declared her readiness to conclude a separate peace with Russia without Germany. The congress of soldiers and workmen has ordered Trotsky to resign negotiations with the Germans.

WASHINGTON.—As another direct result of nationwide criticism of the war department and the demand for increased efficiency in war preparations, Maj. Gen. Goethals, acting quartermaster general, appointed Robert J. Thorne of Chicago to be in charge of maintenance and distribution.

CHICAGO.—Hector H. McLean, for fifteen years manager of the Del Prado hotel, was killed near Cascade, Colo., when an automobile stage in which he was riding was struck by a locomotive.

INDIANS AND NATURAL RESOURCES.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 23.—Your editorial of Jan. 22, "Indians and Natural Resources," states a point of view which none need dissent from, but it is based on an incorrect understanding of the facts in this case of the Flathead Indian water power site.

The Indians want that site developed. They want it leased for development under the terms of the existing federal power act, which directs that "all proceeds of such lease shall be deposited to the credit of the tribe." The Flathead tribe owns the power site by treaty; its ownership of rentals from the power site is guaranteed under existing law; it objects to having these rentals, its property, taken from it and given to the neighboring white farmers and other parties, on exactly the same grounds that a white owner would object to a similar act of spoliation or confiscation directed against his own property.

The Flathead scheme has now turned a new corner. In the appropriation bill now pending, it is proposed to allow the Indians possession of all the cash rentals for this power site; but an appropriation, beginning at $285,000, is made available to the Indian bureau for that bureau to go into the business of distributing electric power in competition with the utilities companies of Montana.

The Indian bureau, thus becoming a public ownership and operation agency in the electric field, expects to make a net profit of more than $1,800,000 a year, which profit will be used to pay off the debts of the irrigation district (practically made up of whites) to the United States, and thereafter will go into the pockets of the irrigators (mostly whites). The Indian rentals will be correspondingly reduced. In place of the commercial value of the power, which the power commission inverts to them, the Indians will get a small percentage of this commercial rental, and the balance will go into white pockets.

If the United States is to embark on the governmental distribution and retailing of electric power, it would seem reasonable that such enterprises should be entrusted to an agency of the government with a record of efficiency higher than that of the Indian bureau. And whether the government or the private corporations become the developers of Indian power resources, we think it is

BUNGALOWS.

Chicago, Jan. 23.—Since the skyscraper is one of America's original contributions to architecture, why can't we give an original American name to the small homes on top of them, such as "bungalow," "sky homes," "sky dwellings," or "high homes." We know that the word "bungalow" is of Indian origin, but very inappropriate name for the homes on top of skyscrapers.

TEN ALDERMEN UNITE TO PUSH S. SIDE PROJECTS

District Neglected by the City, They Assert.

Ten south side aldermen, prompted by a belief that their district has been neglected, united last night in the formation of a "league of wards" intended to secure more improvements by a solid vote in the city council.

The aldermen were brought together by the executive committee of the Greater South Side Chamber of Commerce at a banquet in the Shoreland hotel. They pledged unanimous support to a program comprising the following major projects:

Program as Outlined.
(1) Widening of South Park avenue to the city limits; (2) Widening of Cottage Grove avenue from 22d street south; (3) Reconditioning of the entire south side sewer system; (4) Filtration of city water; (5) Improvement of street lighting facilities; (6) Connection of Pershing road over Bubbly creek; (7) Double-decking of one street, preferably State, from the loop south.

Opening of Michigan avenue and 95th street will probably be added to the list by a committee named to draft them for presentation to Mayor Thompson.

A lion's share of the city's gifts, speakers at the meeting declared, have gone in the past to the north, northwest and west sides, despite the leadership of the south side in size and population.

Lack Civic Consciousness.
"What we lack down here is civic consciousness," H. H. Haylett, manager of the chambers of commerce, asserted. "The south side, with a population of 1,390,000, covers 56 per cent of the city's territory—an area greater than St. Louis, Minneapolis, and

TWO MEN IN COURT TELL HOW WOMEN BEAT, KICKED THEM

Men complained in two courts yesterday of being beaten by women. Dr. Clarence H. Courtney, 51 years old, 3189 Washington boulevard, testified before Circuit Judge Thomas J. Lynch that his estranged wife, Mrs. Pauline E. Courtney of the Alcazar hotel, had kicked, slapped and beaten him during their seven months of married life. He described her as being much larger and more powerful than he. He was denied his plea for divorce because of a technical error in the papers of the case.

Before Municipal Judge William E. Holander, Joseph Cunningham, 35 years old, 550 Simpson street, told of being elammed in the jaw by Mrs. Julia Brix, 24 years old, 1853 Burling street, after he had passed her a note apologizing for having tried to flirt with her in a theater. The court sent him to the psychopathic laboratory.

Indianapolis combined. The city expects to spend $100,000,000 in bond money under the Thompson administration and we must have a big share."

Judge Frees Couple in Robbery; Then Marries 'Em

Judge Stanley Klarkowski in the Criminal court yesterday first discharged a couple charged with robbery and assault to kill and then married them. He advised the ceremony after he had been told that Richard and Ethel O'Brien, 27 and 23 years old, although living together at 1719 West 22d street, were not actually married. The judge found the evidence insufficient to justify the charge of Frank Mieski, 1738 West 22d street, that the couple had robbed him.

HIKER DETAINED IN KENTUCKY AS LOST SMITH GIRL

Found with Boy; Denies She's Missing Student.

Olive Hill, Ky., Jan. 26.—(AP)—The nation-wide net spread for the missing Frances St. John Smith held in this little Kentucky mountain town today a boy and girl who explained that they were just hiking through the country and for 24 hours declined to give police their names or say where they were from.

Late today, however, the girl, who resembled in nearly every particular the missing Smith college student, said she was Martha Mitchell, daughter of Henry M. Mitchell, a broker of Glendale, Long Island, N. Y., and her companion said he was Fred Fuchs, who had come to this country 18 months ago from Alsace-Lorraine.

Tries to Phone to Father.
Through a telephone number given by the girl, however, police said they found out that the Mitchell she referred to in New York was supposed to be an employee of the Holley hotel in Washington Square. They were unable to communicate with him, however. Meantime telephone instructions came from the office of Mayor Walker of New York to spare no expense in efforts to identify the girl.

The girl, who appears to be 18, has brown hair and blue eyes. There is a scar over her left eye. Police said she tallied almost perfectly with descriptions of the Smith girl and on request of the Smith family decided to detain her until her identity was established. Olive Hill police were first told about the couple late yesterday by Cathleen De Hart, 19, who thought she resembled the Smith girl. They spent the night at the De Hart home, where police placed a guard over them.

Father Is Hotel Employee.
New York, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Fellow employees of Henry M. Michel, a houseman at the Holley hotel, said tonight that he had a daughter, Martha, 18, who left home months ago and whose present whereabouts were unknown to her family. A girl whose name was given as "Martha Mitchell" was detained in Olive Hill, Ky., today in connection with the search for Frances St. John Smith.

It was said at the hotel that when his daughter left home, Michel remarked that she had gone away "with a young Alsatian." The girl held in Olive Hill was accompanied by a youth who gave the name of Fred Fuchs and who was said to have come from France.

Promises to Speed Hunt.

Northampton, Mass., Jan. 26.—(AP)—

Definite action in the search for Frances St. John Smith, missing Smith college student, was promised by Gen. Alfred T. Foote, state commissioner of public safety, today, when he took command of the investigation. Mrs. St. John Smith, mother of the girl, told newspaper men she is positive her daughter is alive.

ASK INJUNCTION AGAINST UNION AT LOOP TOWER

The Illinois District Telegraph company, the American District Telegraph company, and the Chicago Electrical Protective company filed a bill for an injunction in the Circuit court yesterday against local No. 124 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, the Reliance Electrical Protective company, and several electrical companies employing union labor.

The complainants allege they are having trouble with the union in trying to fulfill contracts to install equipment in the Pittsfield building, 25-27 North Wabash avenue, a new building erected by the Field estate.

An injunction is asked to restrain the defendants from harassing the petitioners by threatened strikes, sabotage, or intimidating tactics.

With the introduction of the New Series Pontiac Six three weeks ago, Chicago witnessed one of the most amazing demonstrations of public interest ever enjoyed by an automobile. From morning to night our display rooms and those of our associated dealers were crowded. People were astounded that so great a car could be so greatly improved. They marveled at the important new features which had been added—at the vivid new style—at the marvelous new Fisher bodies—at the unheard-of value represented in the New Series Pontiac Six at no increase in prices! Retail sales reached unprecedented heights—and you'll know why when you see this lowest priced General Motors Six next week at the Auto Show and at the Grand Showing of General Motors cars, Hotel Stevens, or at any of the dealers listed below.

COURT RECORDS HERE SHOW WIVES WIN NEW RIGHTS

But Their Responsibilities
Also Are Growing.

As the headship of the home is being transferred by woman, court records show, through a growing tendency of Cook county judges to impose equal duties and obligations upon husband and wife. And she is paying for her enlarged privileges by a loss of control to her sex.

Illustrating the point yesterday, Superior Judge Joseph Sabath, taking advantage of all of his discretionary powers, ruled that a husband's long-recognized right to select the place of residence has many strings attached to it. Lyle Abbott, an automobile salesman residing in Ravenswood, sought a divorce on the grounds of desertion because his wife refused to move with him to an apartment he had leased. Attorney Nicholas A. Socrates, representing the wife, Margaret, showed that the apartment was adjoining one occupied by Abbott's parents and, he told the court, she objected to the proximity of in-laws. Judge Sabath dismissed the divorce bill.

Attorney Lloyd Paxton is attempting to break another long established principle in behalf of Mrs. Mary Baim, estranged wife of State Senator John Baim. The statutes hold that a man cannot contract to pay a salary to his wife for work outside of her household duties, but Attorney Paxton is urging the court to consider her eleven years of work in his drugstore at 1313 South Halsted street in awarding alimony. The case is pending.

"Alimony Not a Bonus."

Alimony, according to Judge Sabath, is not a bonus. It is a right of the wife, and he is merely a division of property accumulated during marriage rather than a bonus to a woman for having surrendered her maidenhood.

Circuit Judge George Fred Rush and Superior Judge John J. Sullivan reflected this view not long ago in denying temporary alimony to Mrs. Anna R. Boyle of Oak Park. She refused to return to her husband, William A.

Boyle, Crans Technical High school teacher, after he had quit the drinking that had caused their separation. The judge held that since she contributed nothing toward her husband's welfare or comfort, she was entitled to nothing from him.

The increased burden upon the wife to do her share in matrimony is justified, Judge Sabath said, by woman's increased economic independence. Attorney Benjamin B. Davis says that over 40 per cent of women clients engaging him in divorce suits are employed.

"Society Outgrows Laws."

Another instance of how the courts are cultivating woman's independence is seen in the pending divorce suit brought by Mrs. Ruth Johnson, a private secretary, against James B. Johnson, a commercial artist. He twice has faced prosecution for contempt of court because of his efforts to woo her despite her objections. He is still desirous of winning her back, according to his attorney, Otto Baer, but is restrained by injunctions from making overtures.

"Society has outgrown the laws," Judge Sabath summoned up the situation. "Judges realize this and are able to cope with the situation by exercising their full discretionary powers. A wife today has the same rights in the eyes of the judges, if not in the law, as has a husband. And she has the same obligations."

STORY OF GIRL AND HER PISTOL TOLD IN COURT

In Judge William B. Holander's Municipal court there was unfolded yesterday the story of Miss Helen Davis, 1864 Lincoln avenue, recently come to Chicago from the south, and her revolver.

As Miss Davis on Jan. 11 walked into a restaurant at 2000 Lincoln avenue she passed a number of taxicab drivers, who made ribald remarks and asked her to ride with them. She paid no attention. They followed her into the restaurant and for a time continued their attentions. Miss Davis got up and went to her room, and when she came back she had her revolver, which she laid on the table beside her plate.

"Now," she said, thin lips, "let me alone, or . . ." She grasped the revolver.

The taxicab drivers made a hasty exodus. A few minutes later they came back with a policeman. The policeman arrested her. And Judge Holander yesterday gave her a suspended fine of $100 and placed her on six months' probation on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

EVANSTON WOMAN ASSAULTED.

Mrs. Mary Young was found assaulted yesterday in her home at 620 Davis street, Evanston. Gas was escaping from a stove on which a tea kettle had boiled over.

RUSSIA FARMERS RISE TO RESIST GRAIN SEIZURES

Bread Shortage in Cities; Exports Collapse.

BY DONALD DAY.
(Copyright, 1928: By The Chicago Tribune.)

RIGA, Latvia, Jan. 26.—During the last six weeks not one ton of grain has been exported from the Baltic ports, Russia's northern harbor, according to a report here, which states that the soviet government already is secretly buying grain from America. The entire export and import program of the bolsheviks is being overhauled and purchases abroad are being cut to the minimum.

Following the collapse of the campaign to collect grain from the peasants, the government has decided to use forcible measures against the peasantry. The problem now is to supply the Russian cities with bread.

Drive Against Moonshiners.
According to the newspaper Izvestia, the provincial police are making a drive against distillers of samogonka—moonshine. In seven central provinces, Moscow, Leningrad, Peking, Voronezh, Riazan, Stalingradsk, and Orlovsk, 16,467 peasants have been arrested and fined $68,000, 3,353 stills have been confiscated and 8,189 gallons of samogonka has been destroyed. The fines are being paid in grain by the peasants.

All sections of Russia report that the peasants, instead of selling grain to the government organizations, are using it to feed cattle and make home brew, using the mash residue as fodder.

Since the state operated bakeries in the larger cities are unable to supply the inhabitants with bread, as rival traders are buying the materials, the cooperatives are visiting the villages to trade direct with the peasants. In the last week $90 such bread "speculators" were arrested in Moscow and Leningrad, while in Kharkov, Kiev and other centers in the Ukraine another 1,000 traders were arrested and banished.

Close Peasant Mills.
The private buyers are paying the peasants 50 per cent more for their grain than the government and a decree has been published forbidding the traders to pay more than the fixed government price. The local commissars are closing the peasants' mills in many districts, seeking to force them to sell their crops, but even these punitive measures are not expected to help the export problem.

In the Omak and Riazan districts local uprisings are reported and the Moscow press is urging the government to adopt stricter measures to force the peasants to disgorge their hidden grain stores.

WITNESSES NAME CATHOLIC BISHOP IN MOSCOW TRIAL

Prelate, Accused Spy, Admits Some Acts.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Copyright, 1928: By The Chicago Tribune.)

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., Jan. 26.—Damaging evidence against Bishop Skalsky was adduced in the military division of the supreme court today, where the Roman Catholic prelate is on trial for espionage and counter revolutionary activities against the soviets in Ukraine.

Mme. Wallahinsky said Bishop Skalsky was the leader of a secret Polish organization, the White Eagles, with headquarters at Jitomir, near Kiev, she said. Mme. Kokanowski when a member, was accused of betraying fellow members, to soviet authorities, and Bishop Skalsky passed a death sentence on her.

Admits Aiding Priest.

The bishop admitted he obtained a bogus official rubber stamp from Warsaw with which he stamped papers and passports, enabling plotters to enter and leave Russia. The bishop said he aided a priest, Father Romanoffsky, accused of espionage by the soviets, to cross the frontier and to escape into Poland, because the priest was unable to prove his innocence by an alibi without compromising a wealthy married woman, his sweetheart.

Accused of Propaganda.

The testimony charged that Bishop Skalsky influenced school teachers in Ukraine to inculcate anti-soviet ideas into the minds of their pupils, urging the youngsters to join the Roman church.

The bishop, grimy and dirty in his priestly robes after his long incarceration, seemed fearful of the outcome of the trial, but it is reported the Polish embassy and soviet foreign office are urging leniency in order not to disturb the Russo-Polish relations.

APPEAL TO U. S. TO AID 4 MILLION STARVING IN CHINA

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

SHANGHAI, China, Jan. 26.—Missionary and other foreign relief bodies here are calling to America for funds to relieve the famine situation in southern Chihli province, where more than 4,000,000 people are in distress as a result of crop failures and the devastation wrought by the civil war.

The China famine fund committee here today cabled to the committee of reference and counsel in New York, recommending that the American Red Cross remit $500,000 for urgent relief pending a drive in America for $1,500,000 more.

Appeals from mission sources in Shantung say the relief bodies are unable to cope with the situation due to the depredations of northern military factions, which are seizing funds, grains and clothing which the missionaries send to the affected areas. They recommend that the work be handled by the Red Cross, which would have diplomatic support from the American authorities.

The famine area now is the center of the tricorned battlefields, where there is fighting between the nationalist forces of Gen. Feng Ys-hiang and the northern militarists, Gen. Chang Chung-chang and Marshal Sun Chang-fang, controllers of the Shantung area.

Gen. Feng's troops slowly are pushing northward, causing the withdrawal of the northern forces toward Peking.

immediately diplomatic with Japan and France as an exchange of ministers. An arrangement to this effect was considered in the speech from the throne in the Dominion parliament at the beginning of the 1928 session here today.

The first venture in establishing diplomatic relations of its own with a foreign nation was when Vincent Massey went to Washington a few years ago.

Envoys from London, Too.
The speech presents as a notable step in Canadian development the establishment of direct communication between London and Ottawa through an exchange of ministers plenipotentiary.

There was no mention of the St.
Lawrence seaway project in Gov. Gen.
Massey's reading of the speech.
The absence of definite government policy was disappointing to separate supporters, but it has not been decided whether the administration will accept the advice of its national advisory committee and will negotiations with the United States.

The legislation heralded in the general's formal document measures to continue increase federal subsidies to the eco-

GREAT WESTERN ROAD MAY END PROTEST ON RIVER ORDINANCE

Dissatisfaction of the Chicago Great Western railroad over the arrangements in connection with the un-linking of the Chicago river are expected to be settled before the bill of objections filed by that company is heard by the Illinois commerce commission on Feb. 2 and the petition may be withdrawn.

This was predicted yesterday by James Simpson of the citizens' committee, who conferred with officials of the Great Western, the Baltimore and Ohio, and the Chicago Terminal railroad. The Great Western failed to concur with the fourteen other railroads in a petition to the state commerce commission for authority to shift their tracks to permit the straightening of the river.

Technical details relative to the location of property of the St. Charles Air Line also are to be adjusted.

The bill of objections states that the Chicago Great Western was not named in the river straightening ordinance, though that railroad holds a 999 year lease from the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and a great deal of the land so leased lies in the path of the proposed new channel of the river between Polk and Eighteenth streets.

STIMSON HERE ON HIS WAY TO PHILIPPINE POST

On his way to Manila, Col. Henry
L. Stimson, new governor general of the Philippine islands, stopped in Chicago yesterday for a day's break in his long journey. He will sail from San Francisco on Feb. 3 on the S. S. President McKinley.

The new governor general, who prefers to be called "plain Mr. Stimson," was a lieutenant colonel of artillery in the A. E. F., and at the close of the war was promoted to the rank of colonel. From 1911 to 1913 he was secretary of war in the Taft cabinet, and in the spring of 1927 went to Nicaragua as President Cool-idge's personal representative to negotiate peace in that war-torn country.

DEMANDS LAW TO SUPPRESS INDECENT BOOKS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 26.—(AP)—

Censorship of books and magazines to suppress the circulation of "indecent" matter was asked for in the house today by Representative Tillman, Democrat, Arkansas.

The Arkansas member, who has introduced a censorship bill, flourished one of the cheaper current magazines and declared he was opposing that type of publication and also certain types of books. He added that he could not countenance the "wriggling of modern dancing," but preferred the old-fashioned Virginia reel or "the stately minuet."

Men and Women! How Much Weight Would You Like to Quickly Gain?

LEADERS OF BOTH PARTIES MIRED IN PRIMARY ENIGMA

Spring or Fall Election?
It's a Nightmare!

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

The intellectual giants among the politicians filled the Hotel Sherman with groanings and creakings yesterday as they strained their minds and imaginations in the great guessing contest of the age—will the Supreme court uphold the 1927 primary law. Both Republicans and Democrats are anxious of being set with a slate for April primaries if the court sustains the law, but at the same time if the law is to be knocked out and primaries come in September, no group wants to be tipping its state five months in advance.

The Crow-Galpin Thompson executive committee wrestled with the problem of whether a slate should be framed within the next few days. It spent several hours on the mat without a fall and it is to meet again today for another installment. The Democratic managing committee is to meet Saturday for the same purpose. So far all the deliberations have circled around the question of whether the Supreme court will or won't uphold the law. Both sides are lamenting the lack of a good A No. 1 mindreader.

Petitions Are Ready.

Many of the candidates, meanwhile, not ready to have their petitions in shape no matter whether filing day comes in the spring or the fall. Ex-Gov. Frank O. Lowden's name is to be filed at Springfield about Feb. 3 for the presidential preferential primaries, according to Winthrop N. Custer, former state treasurer, who is Illinois manager for Mr. Lowden. A full set of national convention delegates for Lowden is likewise to be filed. This step is to be taken to be in readiness if the Supreme court upholds the primary law which the lower courts declared unconstitutional.

Some candidates for state offices and for congress and the legislature also have their petitions out and say they will play safe by presenting them at Springfield, although many politicians point out the secretary of state's office was embraced in the injunction case against County Clerk Switzer. It's a fine muddle.

New Phases of Problem.

New aspects of the quandary rose up to perplex the leaders when somebody popped up at headquarters and pointed out that the custom of the Supreme court is to reserve its decisions and hand them out in a bunch on the final day of the session. The court opens its term Feb. 7 and is expected to end the term on Feb. 23 or 24. The legislature has knocked off until Feb. 8 in the hope that the Supreme court will hand down an immediate decision upholding or knocking out the primary law and put the politicians out of their torture.

The uncertainty has been throwing the politicians into a state of nerves. Republican guessers guess the law will be upheld and primaries will come in April; Democratic guessers guess the law will get a knockout and primaries will come in September.

Cop Busts Cop's Beak, but Jury Doesn't Seem to Care

Should one policeman pay $5,000 damages for breaking the nose of another policeman? A jury in Judge John R. Caverly's court yesterday decided that he not only shouldn't pay $5,000, but that he shouldn't pay a cent. The plaintiff was Policeman John F. Shannon of 4226 North Whipple street, who alleged that Policeman Michael J. Nash of 2013 Grenshaw street, hit him in a fight.

SHARP DECLINE IN REVENUE FROM TAX ON ESTATES REPORTED

Washington, D. C., Jan. 26.—[Special.]—A sharp falling off in revenues from the estate tax, due chiefly to the effect of the 80 per cent state credit provision of the 1924 law, is shown in figures for miscellaneous tax receipts for the calendar year 1927, made public today by the treasury.

Estate tax receipts for the calendar year 1927 were about $30,000,000 less than in the fiscal year 1927, indicating a marked slump during the period from June 30, the close of the fiscal year, to Dec. 31.

The total in the calendar year was $69,841,392 as compared with $100,339,851 in the fiscal year 1927, $107,341,905 in the calendar year 1926 and $116,841,036 in the fiscal year 1926. The effect of the 80 per cent state credit provision of the 1924 law was not felt to any extent until the last six months for the reason that executors of estates have one year after the death of a person in which to file a return, and extensions of time for the payment of the tax are granted. Under the 80 per cent credit a deduction may be made for inheritance taxes paid to the states up to 80 per cent of the federal tax. Previously, a credit of only 25 per cent of the federal tax was permitted. The 1927 act also increased the exemption on estate taxes from $50,000 to $100,000.

REED IN FIGHT FOR PRESIDENCY; WILL AID SMITH

New York, Jan. 26.—[Special.]—Senator Reed of Missouri enters the contest for the Democratic nomination for President as chief contender against Gov. Smith and admittedly in second place at the outset. Instead of further complicating the Democratic situation, as might be expected, Reed's open and formal entry announced today serves to simplify the Democratic problem. The Reed headquarters now are open in Washington and his campaign will be extended into all states which do not have favorite sons.

New York Democrats look with favor on Reed's candidacy as likely to help Smith in the end. Gov. Smith is not officially in the race and has not authorized any agent to go into other states to pick up delegates. But in the meantime the Reed following will be organizing with the distinct understanding that his delegates are for Reed first and Smith second. Should Reed not show much strength in the early balloting the bloc of delegates will be in position to act in unison as they go to their second choice. Therefore, the better organized the Reed boom the more helpful it may become to Smith—on the assumption, of course, that Reed cannot get the nomination.

With Smith now concededly far in the lead and Reed in the campaign the wet forces of the democracy are easily in control of the situation. Gov. Ritchie of Maryland is rated as holding about third position and probably will have a handful of delegates, although he has stated he prefers to have his state cast its vote for Gov. Smith on the first ballot.

CONFER DOCTOR OF LAWS DEGREE UPON COSGRAVE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., Jan. 26.—[Special.]—Archbishop Curley of Baltimore, chancellor of the Catholic university, presided this afternoon at the ceremony of conferring the degree of doctor of laws "honoris causa" on President Cosgrave of Ireland.

Archbishop Curley welcomed the president in a short speech. Then followed the reading of the diploma by Secretary Aubrey E. Landry of the university and the formal investment with the doctor's hood by Archbishop Curley.

President Cosgrave replied briefly, thanking America and the university for the honor.

He was host to Chief Justice Taft at lunch and in the evening he dined with the most important caller today was Lawrence Wilder, organizer of the Trans-Oceanic corporation, formed to run a four day service between New York and Havre with new ships. Mr. Wilder proposed to President Cosgrave to make a call at an Irish port, probably, Cobh, provided the Irish government can arrange harbor accommodations.

President Cosgrave told THE TRIBUNE correspondent that he was strongly in favor of the plan and would do all in his power to further it. The presidential party leaves tomorrow for Philadelphia, whence it goes to Ottawa before returning to New York to sail for home.

BERLIN POSTERS DERIDE GILBERT AS "NEW KAISER"

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
BERLIN, Jan. 26.—[Special.]—The Kaiser! screamed the posters pasted all over Berlin on the eve of the former emperor's birthday, but this time it is a mock proclamation, deriding Seymour Parker Gilbert, American agent general for reparations. Berlin is invited to attend a birthday celebration. The speakers include friends of Gen. Von Ludendorff.

The proclamation says "We are rid of Wilhelm. One man is to be king, history teaches. Since no German, apparently, knows how to rule, the 32 year old American banker, Seymour Parker Gilbert, has been chosen as Kaiser of the German labor colony."

"The stock exchange kings took our railroad, mint, economic and border countries, and for their administration we pay $600,000,000 a year. But this payment gives us a Kaiser. The old one governed with a crown and scepter. The new one has a top hat and fountain pen."

"German slaves, come to the Kaiser birthday celebration in honor of Seymour Parker Gilbert. Let us express to the father of our country the gratitude of our jobless, crippled, small savers and others who were cheated, for the flooding we received from international capital. Oppressed and disfranchised, show your exploiters how satisfied and happy you are about your present constitution! Hurrah for capital and the Dawes colony!"

Police tore down the posters.

ORDER RECOUNT IN VARE CONTEST IN SIX COUNTIES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., Jan. 26.—[Special.]—Recount of the ballots in six counties in Pennsylvania to determine whether William E. Vare, Republican, or William D. Wilson, Democrat, is entitled to credentials as United States senator, was ordered today by the senate committee on privileges and elections.

The action was taken unanimously after the committee yesterday, by a partisan vote of 8 to 4, had decided against a recount. The committee was called together again today after Senator James A. Reed [Dem., Mo.] had threatened to carry the fight for a recount to the floor of the senate.

Senator Reed introduced a resolution at the opening of the senate session today directing the committee on privileges and elections to proceed forthwith and upon the present pleadings to the taking of the evidence in the Wilson-Vare contest. He announced, however, that as a result of assurances that the matter would be reconsidered by the committee later in the day he would not press the resolution.

Long-life is a matter of substantial building

It is easy to build for a day. It is difficult to build a thing that will withstand hard usage for unnumbered years. But it is not only because of its durability that the pen with the little white dot has had its outlasting success. It is a real achievement in art. It is a faithful performer, instantly responding to the lightest touch, yet capable of making several carbon copies. With its brilliant radite barrel and its Sheafferized nib, it is built for a lifetime of hard service and the enduring enjoyment that comes from real beauty.

"How Fortunate
We Were!"

IN winter every road stretching South or West takes on a lure so irresistible that hundreds of families in Chicago succumb to it, and unwittingly she had made use of one of the strongest influences dominating the used car market.

Mrs. Farrell had a Chrysler roadster she was anxious to sell. Everyone had attempted to dissuade her, pointing out that as it was an open car her chances of getting a fair value for it were minimized by the season. But circumstances made it imperative to sell the car, so she decided to try once at least in a market too vast and responsive to be disturbed by seasonal changes... The Tribune Want Ad Market. And she was amazed at the avalanche of inquiries she received the day the ad appeared. An immediate sale resulted.

There is nothing extraordinary in Mrs. Farrell's experience when you consider that at this time of the year hundreds of Chicagoans are planning vacations in the South and West... and are anxious to buy a good used car to tour in. Then add the fact she used Tribune Want Ads—the one medium that covers the Chicago market thoroughly enough to reach all these people! If you want to sell your car, the same responsive market and the same productive medium are at your command. Call—

104 WAYS TO MAKE MONEY

Good Hard Work Is a Sure Builder of Real Character

By Gladys Huntington

The mother of a college graduate was voicing a lament.

"Shoe Bill has been home from college. I've had several shocks. He's become a terrible snob, and he's developed big ideas about money. But the greatest of all is that he has become just plain lazy. Before he went to college there wasn't a thing I could ask him to do that he wouldn't do on the spot—chop wood, beat rugs, even lift ashes. Now he doesn't want to do one thing that involves hard work."

"Unfortunately he's never needed to study to pass, and he's just walked through college. But that boy is going to be up against it when he has to make good in business."

Have you ever thought much about work—about what a sane, wholesome, pole-giving thing it is? It is one very serious direction in which we are failing in bringing up our children—in our efforts to teach them how to work.

By this I don't mean what you might think. I don't mean that children should be kept from play to do chores; I don't mean that they should be made to earn money, or that they should be seriously burdened with duties.

But what I do mean is that, after they have passed their little childhood they should be made to realize that work and achievement go hand in hand. I think that all accomplishment should not be dependent solely upon interest, inspiration or whimsy. While interest must be aroused and sustained, children should realize that often just plain hard work and persistence are required to get results. They may start a thing from interest, but that alone will not necessarily carry it through.

Whether it is long division, or composition, or drying the dishes, or making a present, teach them to carry on after their interest lags, just to complete the job. Let them learn to dig. It is a wonderful lesson to get early in life—the value of hard work.

You know some one's—I've forgotten whose—definition of genius: "Genius is the infinite capacity for taking pains." Just another description of good hard work. Good hard work—it sounds like something, doesn't it? And it is something worth while. It opens many doors of opportunity, and is a great builder of character.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Shrinkless Sponge Cake.

A considerable number of good cooks will tell you that they cannot make sponge cake. They might as well say they do not know how to beat eggs or handle them from first to last efficiently and correctly. We think the importance of beating a sponge cake, reasonably, is the beating of the eggs in the right way, and also of treating them fairly after they have been disturbed by beating. We think the method given in our little cook book an excellent one, and so will not repeat it here. The adding of the sugar to the whites in the air spaces, as it were, and so prevents the contracting of the beaten eggs.

Lately we have had a request for our milk sponge cake. In our experience we have never found milk of any sort for sponge cake but water frequently is used, and its use always increases the volume of the cake. The following recipe we once printed as "sure fire," taking it from another newspaper, giving it a fair test, and finding it excellent even on the third day, and fine for toast. We used a cake pan ten inches across and three and one-half inches high, which gave us an unusually large cake. The recipe is:

Four eggs, separated; one cup of boiling water; two cups of sugar; two and one-half cups of flour; one and one-fourth teaspoons of baking powder; on-half teaspoon of vanilla. Beat the egg yolks until lemon colored, add the cup of boiling water, beat constantly and adding sugar, a little at a time. Sift the flour with baking powder and stir into the mixture. Add vanilla. Beat the egg whites quite stiff and fold them into the mixture last of all.

Turn into an ungreased tube pan and bake in a slow oven for one hour, having the oven at 350 degrees for the first half hour and 350 for the last half hour. Here is where the cook may have trouble, since it is easier to lower temperatures than to raise them with any exactness, probably a good effect could be had by raising the heat less, and baking the cake for a longer time.

If the oven is too hot early in the work the top may crack. With an uncooked icing—egg white and confectioner's sugar—this cake will keep for a week or longer and so will make a good present.

CHILDREN DIVIDE HUGHITT ESTATE OF $1,600,000

Will, Filed in Waukegan, Shows Million Securities.

The will of the late Marvin Hughitt, pioneer railroad, was admitted to probate yesterday in the Lake County court at Waukegan. The estate, smaller than was generally believed, was estimated at $1,600,000. It includes $1,000,000 in stocks and bonds and $600,000 in real estate, principally his Lake Forest home.

Almost the entire estate is bequeathed to Mr. Hughitt's three children. They are Marvin Hughitt Jr., of Bourbonnais, Ill.; Mrs. Mary Hughitt Frost of Lake Forest, wife of the architect Charles S. Frost; and Mrs. Belle Hughitt Granger of Lake Forest, wife of Alfred H. Granger, also a well known architect.

Divide Personal Effects.
The children are also to divide their father's personal effects, including his library and works of art.

Two cousins, Mrs. Clara Hewitt Dixon and Miss Jennie Hewitt, both of Kankakee, Ill., are left $2,500 each. One other relative, James M. Hough of Omaha, Neb., a half-brother of Mr. Hughitt's deceased wife, is made a legatee. He is made beneficiary of a $20,000 trust fund.

John D. Caldwell, for many years private secretary to Mr. Hughitt and now secretary of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, is remembered with a bequest of $5,000. The two men were associated for forty-two years.

Executor Is Appointed.

The will was filed by Attorneys Weymouth Kirkland and W. Ayers Keplinger. Mr. Hughitt Jr. testified before Probate Judge Martin C. Decker to prove heirship. The judge admitted the will to probate and appointed the Illinois Merchants Trust company as executor.

REFERENDUM ASKED ON PLAN TO REVISE SCHOOL VACATIONS

A referendum among teachers and parents of public school pupils on the question of abolishing the spring vacation and adding an extra week to the summer holidays was proposed to the city council schools committee yesterday by Acting Superintendent W. J. Hogan. A subcommittee was named to take up the proposal with the board of education.

Mr. Hogan appeared before the committee, at its request, to discuss a resolution by Ald. Max Adamowski (18th). The resolution said that excessive heat often forces the schools to close during the September term and suggested that the opening date be the second or third Monday in September instead of the first.

The subcommittee also was directed to take up with the school board Ald. Adamowski's proposal that special schools and classrooms be provided for mentally defective children. About 500 such children are handicapped by the lack of special classes, the committee was informed.

POSTAL BUYS BIG RADIO STATION FOR SHIP SERVICE

New York, Jan. 26.—[Special.]—The Postal Telegraph-Commercial Cables company have bought control of the high powered trans-oceanic radio station at Sayville, L. I., and will shortly begin ship to shore service on the Atlantic. It was announced today by Clarence H. Mackay, president.

The announcement means the resumption of competition in this service on the Atlantic, which terminated recently when the Radio corporation bought the Independent Wireless Telegraph company.

A chain of receiving stations from Nova Scotia to Florida will be built by the Postal Telegraph company to complete the Atlantic ship to shore system.

Control of the Sayville station was acquired from Commercial Wireless, Inc., which leased it from the navy department.

LAKE POLLUTION ACTION HOPED AT MEETING TONIGHT

Investigation of the Lake Michigan water pollution problem is scheduled to come to a focus tonight at a meeting of Chicago and Indiana city health authorities at Hammond.

"We will have complete reports on every phase of the question ready," Health Commissioner A. H. Kegel said yesterday. "I am hoping to get started on a remedial program."

Tonight's meeting is an outgrowth of a preliminary conference of mayors and engineers of towns in the Calumet district in Dr. Kegel's office two weeks ago, shortly after bad tasting water aroused Chicago users. At that time it was agreed to hold another meeting to check up on the progress of plans to avert recurrence of water taint.

During the last week J. I. Connolly, Chicago health department engineer, has been collecting data in the Calumet region. He will make a report tonight. Officials of Hammond, Whiting, and Munster also will report on their move to create a tri-city sanitary district.

WHETHER the purchase be a package of pins or the complete furnishing of a hotel amounting to thousands of dollars, equal courtesy is accorded, equal service is given in our store. And not alone service—but style alertness, smart authenticity—most necessary adjuncts.

Our determination to carry out in an exacting manner a policy of style supremacy leads our experts into the fashion centers of the world. Whether a new color in silks or a new effect in hosiery; whether the latest vogue in drapes or mode in furniture—you will always find us endeavoring to give that specialized attention to detail that the shopper of today looks for—and justly demands.

Nothing is too large, nor anything too small. The same Mandel courtesy is conspicuous in every corner of the house, whether it be devoted to selling pins to the seamstress or antiques to the connoisseur . . . there is no departure from the ideal of service.

A few values typical of the innumerable items available throughout the store at this time in "our greatest clearance event in 72 years":

NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 26.—(Special.)—Elizabeth, the colt which Morris Vaden of Chicago purchased for $35,000, failed here today and ran second to M. Johnson's filly, Elizabeth, in 2 year olds. The Sankla Farm stable's sorrel was third.

Elizabeth had been well played and paid $7.10 in the mutuels. The race was run in the good time of 1:24 1/4, and Jockey R. Leonard was up on the winner.

Blessefield flattered his Chicago backers when he romped into a long early lead. Elizabeth was well back, but Leonard moved with her at the end of a half mile. Coming on the outside, she closed gamely and took Blessefield into camp and won going away by more than a length.

Uncle Parks and Jockey Workman proved a winning combination in the fifth race, beating Hot Confidence by half a length with the favorite, Dolly Beth, third.

I.W.A.C. and Taylor Trunk Girls' Fives Clash Tonight
The I. W. A. C. Brownies and Taylor Trunks girls' basketball teams, will clash tonight at Loyola university gymnasium at 8 o'clock. The teams, rivals for years, are tied for the leadership of the Middle States Girls' Basketball League.

Chicago Normal Defeats Northwestern Dental Five
Chicago Normal won its tenth game of the season yesterday when it outplayed the Northwestern Dental quintet, 29 to 15, on the far south side floor. Farber and Harbert starred for Normal. Each counted 10 points.

Portage Park Skaters Hold Carnival Tonight
The third annual ice skating carnival of the Portage Park Skating club will be held today at Portage park. Nineteen events are on the program.

NATIONALS PLAY BOOSTERS.
Chicago Nationals and Edward Moore Boosters completed their battle, for the first time, at the boys' Brotherhood Republic gymnasium tonight.

Easy for us to prove that Rogers Peet clothing equals your ideas of what first-class suits and overcoats should be—including price.

For example: single-breasted suits from our regular Winter stock that were $75, $80 and $85 are now—$65!

Others, formerly $65 and $70—

$55 now!

Hundreds of Winter overcoats show savings to you of $10 to $25.

And shoes! Broken sizes in men's black and tan, high and low shoes, were $12.50 and $10.

$7.45 now!

Vision

In this day and age events and conditions change so rapidly that those who guide the destinies of modern business institutions, whether industrial, commercial, or financial, must well be equipped to foresee the trend of tomorrow, to plan ahead, to safeguard the future. The merchant must foresee the change in style, the manufacturer must study the future uses of his product and changing methods of distribution, the financier must be a keen student of economics. Else, tragedy would result.

Husazag, Musson & Company, established in 1884, has passed through some of the most trying periods this country has ever known—depressions, wars and panics. But not a single one of our investors has ever suffered loss or inconvenience by reason of these economic disturbances, because guiding this House have been men with vision. Safeguarding the interests of the investor is our first aim, and far-sightedness has played a most important part in this accomplishment.

[We shall be pleased to send a list of current investment suggestions to interested investors]
